Capehart Sees Russians' Entry As Inconsistent

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.) said today that admitting Russian student editors and farmers to the United States for study seems to be "bordering a bit on the inconsistent."

In a speech prepared for delivery in the Senate tomorrow, Capehart said:

"I don't want to say coldly that these invitations are wrong. I just want to say that it appears to me our policy toward communism is bordering a bit on the inconsistent."

Fulbright Disagrees

Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) said on the other hand the idea of exchanging farmer visits "is a slight step in the right direction."

He suggested more talk of peaceful measures than of the "prospect of an atomic war."

"I don't believe that the ordinary Russian citizen wishes to have war any more than ourselves," Fulbright said on a television program—"Youth Wants to Know"—NBC.

The United States has already agreed to admit 11 Soviet student journalists—aged 24 to 39—for a 30-day visit and is expected also to approve soon a Russian bid to send agriculture students here.

Dulles Article Quoted Capehart, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, quoted extensively from an article he said Secretary of State Dulles wrote in Readers Digest in August 1946. Dulles wrote then, Capehart said:

"Tolerance of non-Soviet thinking is, to them, dangerous weakness."

"What is so different in the Soviet thinking today as to lead this same man, Mr. Dulles, into believing that the Communists will be 'tolerant'?" Capehart asked.

FRB Survey Bolsters 1955 Good Business Predictions

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board reported today that the buying public feels better off financially this year, foresees higher income ahead and plans to spend it on more houses, furniture and appliances.

These were among the preliminary findings of the board's 10th annual survey of consumer finances. The survey supports in general the official predictions that 1955 will be a near-record or record year for business activity.

Provision Made For Shift Of Authority If President Disabled

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—The U.S. military high command has issued an iron-clad order that America's long range strategic bombers shall take off and strike back in the event of an enemy attack on this country.

There are, it may be said on the highest authority, "very detailed and precise plans" for the instant issuing of orders for launching retaliatory bombing action, even though the President of the United States may be incapacitated or cut off by sudden attack.

This provision for an emergency shift of authority has been set up as a result of a section in the Atomic Energy law which says that only the President may order the use of atomic weapons.

CD Would Be Secondary

One official familiar with the plans said it may be assumed that no one is going to have to hunt around in the ruins of the first onslaught for someone to issue the order for atomic counterbombing.

This, together with intercepting second-wave attacks, is now the paramount, overriding mission of the Defense Department.

All else, including civilian defense—a subject now being studied in Congress—will become of secondary importance to the military if Soviet bombers come.

Who would give the command for an immediate counterblow, its method of issuance and other details are secret. Some officials, when asked, suggested that the "order of succession" for government officials might be the procedure, but others indicated that this constitutional procedure would be too cumbersome. Moreover, it might result in a civilian department head having to make a decision entirely military in nature.

Base-Destroying Mission Although popularly described as "retaliatory" action, the true military purpose of counter-atomic strikes would be first to destroy air bases from which additional enemy bomber missions might come.

Next would be the reduction of industrial centers supporting Russia's military machine. Somewhere beyond that the punitive factor might come into play, for political and psychological purposes, and Soviet cities would be moved up on the target list.

In conformity to his off-expressed view that "birthdays are for children," Einstein was to stay home from his unpretentious office at the Institute for Advanced Study in quiet observance of the day.

Attorney Freed Unharmed After Kidnap By Pair

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., March 13 (AP)—A 30-year-old assistant county attorney early today was abducted by two men who threatened to "blow your brains out" but he was released three hours later with the reassurance "we didn't want to harm you."

Carroll Freeman reported to police two Negroes forced him at gunpoint to accompany them on what he felt was "a carefully planned plot to intimidate me."

The alarm was sounded by Freeman's wife, Barbara, who left her husband in their car at 1:15 a.m. while she went into their home to pay a baby-sitter.

Meanwhile the two men jumped Freeman and at pistol point forced him to drive away, he told police. Didn't Know Men

Freeman said he didn't know either man, but from the way they talked "I felt it had something to do with a case I had handled in the past or something that was coming up soon. They asked me a lot about how I felt about colored people."

Freeman said "I was scared when they jumped me and I'm sure that's what they wanted to do. They talked about killing me at first."

The attorney said he was forced to drive the men for a time and added he felt another car was following.

"Later they transferred me to another car, put on a blindfold and forced me to lie on the back seat," Freeman said.

Woman Called Wife "I told them I would like to let my wife know I was all right and they said I'd be all right and they would let me go before daylight. In between times they made threats."

Mrs. Freeman said a woman called her about an hour after the abduction and assured her husband was all right. Mrs. Freeman demanded to be able to talk to her husband and five minutes later the attorney called her.

Freeman said the men took him to what he thought was an outside telephone booth and he talked while still blindfolded, a pistol sticking in his back.

"I kept talking to them all the time and told them if robbery was the motive to take my billfold," Freeman said.

Freeman said they took $17 which they promised to return, but failed to do.

Survey Report Seen Speeding Nationalist Aid

American Officers Make Initial Study Of Military Needs

TAIPEI, Formosa, March 13 (AP)—U.S. officers have completed an initial survey of Chiang Kai-shek's military requirements and will submit their findings to Washington, it was learned today.

It was possible the survey report will help speed the flow of U.S. arms to the Nationalists, who say they are ready to defend their offshore islands from Red onslaught even without active U.S. help.

During top-level conferences here early this month, the Nationalists were represented as asking for more ships, guns and planes to meet the threat of mounting Red military power along the coast.

Chase, Pride Make Survey

The first phase of the survey of Nationalist military needs was made by Maj. Gen. William Chase, chief of the U.S. Military Assistance Advisory Group on Formosa, and Vice Adm. Alfred M. Pride, commander of the 7th Fleet which guards Formosa.

The survey was undertaken under terms of the U.S.-Nationalist mutual defense pact which went into effect March 3.

(In Washington, the Foreign Operations Administration announced the United States is turning over an additional 48 million dollars to Nationalist China.

For Commodities Only

(The money will be used to buy such commodities as wheat, cotton and fuel for the Nationalist air forces. The figure does not include any funds for military equipment or supplies of arms.)

Pride arrived on Formosa March 2. This was a day before the arrival of Secretary of State Dulles, Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations, and Adm. Felix B. Stump, commander in chief of the Pacific Fleet.

Carney said a week ago on his departure from Formosa that the conferences tackled "the realities of the situation in the Formosa area." As to arms, he said:

"Shipments already programmed should be speeded up, and I intend to see that they are."

Nepal King Dies In Switzerland

ZURICH, Switzerland, Monday, March 14 (AP)—King Tribhuvana of Nepal died at Zurich Cantonal Hospital yesterday after a heart attack.

The 49-year-old ruler of the border Himalayan state between India and Tibet had been under treatment for heart disease in Zurich and Nice for several months. He died so quickly after his attack that his two queens who accompanied him here could not reach his bedside.

He returned to Zurich only four days ago after spending several weeks on the French Riviera at Nice. He was so weak when he made the transfer here that a special ambulance car was used for the trip.

Newspaper Demands "Truth" About Margaret's Romance

LONDON, March 13 (AP)—A London Sunday newspaper demanded today that Buckingham Palace make a public statement about reports that Princess Margaret and Group Capt. Peter Townsend may marry.

"The truth must be known in court circles," said the Laborite Reynolds News. "Is it not time court advisers decided to recommend a statement that would either demolish or confirm the rumors?"

All but four of London's 11 Sunday newspapers gave prominence to the Margaret-Townsend story in one form or another. There are persons here who believe the published reports are intended as a test of public opinion. These people say if the public reacts favorably, Margaret's decision will be influenced accordingly; if the reaction is unfavorable, all the published reports will be denied, or ignored.

In this connection, the Sunday Pictorial, one of the first papers in Britain to revive the Margaret-Townsend romance talk, said today it had received an "avalanche" of letters from readers.

Fighter Crashes As Missing Plane Search Pressed

SALT LAKE CITY, March 13 (AP)—An Air National Guard jet fighter crashed in the mountains east of here today while other aircraft searched a fan-shaped patch of rugged terrain for the second of two planes lost earlier.

The air guard F86 Sabre Jet was not flying in the search but was on a training mission. It went down about 20 miles east of here in the Kimball Junction-Alta area of the Wasatch Mountains. Another guard pilot said he saw no parachute.

Daring climbers pushed up the avalanche-laden side of Mt. Timpanogos late yesterday and found the ruins of a B25 bomber. Five persons aboard, the bomber smashed near the top of the majestic mountain Wednesday night.

The plane still sought since Wednesday night was a twin-engine Beechcraft flying from Chicago to Arcata in northern California.

The climbers who reached the destroyed B25 on Mt. Timpanogos, 30 miles south of here, found the bodies of only three of the five men aboard. They believed the other two were buried in the snow that ranges from 9 to 40 feet deep on the east face of the mountain.

Mother Of Five Drives Her Own Tractor-Trailer

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, March 13 (AP)—How's this for an unusual occupation:

Mrs. Richard Deveen, 38, a mother of five, counts it routine to set out at night at the wheel of a heavy Diesel truck-trailer combination with a 76,800-pound load of lumber railway equipment destined for a High Sierra logging camp.

Two sets of gear shifts mesh into 24 forward and 4 reverse speeds. If anything breaks down en route, she's a good enough mechanic to fix it.

Mother of two girls and three boys ranging in age from 12 years to 3 months, she didn't start out with any notion of pioneering a new career. She was trying to be a good wife to her husband, Richard, who used to come home exhausted after long drives hauling cattle. She started going along to relieve him at the wheel.

Three years ago Deveen switched to general freight and bought his wife a rig of her own.

Brownell Draws Committee Fire In Aliens' Ouster

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—A House Judiciary Committee report today criticized Atty. Gen. Brownell for not preventing the deportation of aliens to Iron Curtain countries where it said they faced certain death or concentration camps.

In a staff report, the committee said Brownell delegated his deportation authority to "lower grade" immigration officers who "simply do not possess the necessary intellectual background" and judgment.

The report "urgently" recommended that the Judiciary Committee take up administration of the law with both Brownell and Secretary of State Dulles "with a view toward developing a definite policy."

The staff task force, headed by Walter M. Besterman, committee legislative expert, hit at the non-use of Brownell's discretionary authority in a review of the first two years operation of the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act.

Its criticism was based on a section which gives the attorney general power to "withhold deportation" of aliens if, in "his opinion," they would be subject to physical persecution in the country to which they were consigned.

Lodge Hopes For Red Cooperation On Disarmament

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., March 13 (AP)—Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., just back from five-power London talks on disarmament, said tonight the United States still hopes for Soviet cooperation in the negotiations, "but it is a hard road."

The U.S. chief delegate to the U.N., in a statement issued by his delegation, also complimented his late Soviet counterpart, Andrei Y. Vishinsky, who died last Nov. 22. He said, "We still hope that the Soviet Union will work with us along this line now, as the late Mr. Vishinsky did last fall."

In the last General Assembly, Vishinsky dropped the Soviet Union's previous demand that an unconditional ban on atomic bombs should precede any disarmament agreement. Later, he joined in a unanimous vote to reconvene the 1954 disarmament subcommittee of Britain, Canada, France, Russia and the United States.

Lodge has been sitting on the subcommittee in London since it resumed private negotiations Feb. 25. Early today he flew back to New York, and this afternoon his deputy, Ambassador James J. Wadsworth, left on a plane for London to take his place.

Hoover Group Urges End Of Some Lending Agencies WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—The Hoover Commission today recommended "broad reorganization" of the federal government's 104 lending, insuring and guaranteeing agencies. It said some should be liquidated, others put under combined private-government operation with higher charges to make them self-supporting.

The report to Congress by the Commission on Government reorganization headed by former President Herbert Hoover said federal loans, guarantees and insurances now amount to 244 billion dollars.

It said its recommendations would result in annual savings to the government of about 200 million dollars, plus the return to the Treasury of something like 6 1/2 billion dollars in capital funds now held by agencies which the commission said should be switched to private financing or liquidated.

The commission had high praise for agencies like the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. and the federal land banks, already operating with private finance under government control, and it tealed for much broader application of such "mutualization."

Among agencies the commission recommended shifting to private enterprise under government control were the Federal Housing Administration, which insures housing loans of millions of home buyers, and the Rural Electrification Administration.

The commission proposed that the government cease making price support loans to farmers but instead make crop purchase contracts, at price support levels, leaving it up to the farmer whether he wished to sell his crop to the government or to private buyers.

The report said this would make no change in the farmers' price support situation, but would relieve the government of managing many thousands of small loans.

Demos Rapped For 'Tinkering' With Economy

Smathers Concedes Sponsors Lack Votes To Put Slash Through

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey tonight denounced a new Democratic-proposed income tax cut as a "political quickie gimmick."

He called for approval of the administration's plan to extend present corporate and excise tax rates "without addition of this latest misleading compromise proposal as a crippling amendment."

Humphrey said in a statement the tax program which Republicans pushed through last year had helped offset the economic effects of reduced government spending.

"The American people," he added, "can be seriously harmed by unwise political tinkering with a tax program which has helped set the present economic recovery in motion."

Showdown This Week

Senate Democratic leaders have suggested making up for revenue lost through a proposed cut in personal income taxes by repealing dividend and certain business tax relief provisions of the 1954 law. Their proposal, slated for action this week, would give low-bracket taxpayers a $20 cut plus $10 for each dependent other than a spouse, starting next year.

Senate Democrats came up with the plan after their Finance Committee knocked down a House-adopted $20 reduction for every taxpayer and dependent. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), the majority floor leader, expects to offer the substitute formally on Tuesday.

Plan's Defeat Expected Even some Democrats acknowledged they would have a tough time getting it across. Sen. Smathers (D-Fla.) said they are "shy four or five votes," as of now.

The substitute, besides repealing the 1954 provisions which Humphrey defended as having created jobs, would extend until mid-1957 existing corporate and excise tax rates. Johnson has said that altogether it would produce a net revenue gain of almost $4,900,000,000 in the next 27 months.

"Their claims of increased revenue to help balance this year's budget are fantastic," Humphrey said.

Democrats have argued the income tax saving would increase purchasing power. Humphrey said it would amount to "but a few cents a week for only part of the people."

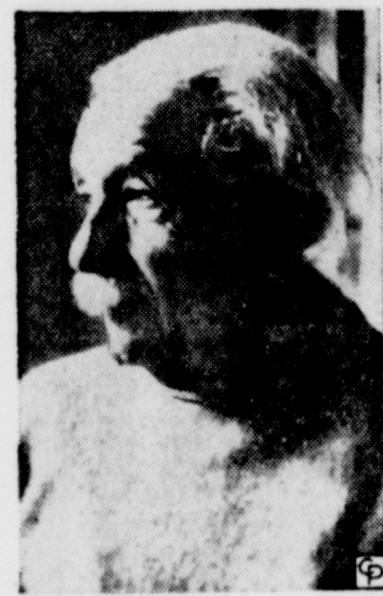

Five Drown As Car Plunges Into Bayou HOUMA, La., March 13 (AP)—An automobile swerved out of control and toppled into eight feet of bayou water at Gibson last night, drowning the driver and his four passengers.

The victims, were en route to Franklin, La., when the midnight crash took place about 20 miles west of Houma in southwestern Louisiana.

Lodge Hopes For Red Cooperation On Disarmament

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., March 13 (AP)—Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., just back from five-power London talks on disarmament, said tonight the United States still hopes for Soviet cooperation in the negotiations, "but it is a hard road."

The U.S. chief delegate to the U.N., in a statement issued by his delegation, also complimented his late Soviet counterpart, Andrei Y. Vishinsky, who died last Nov. 22. He said, "We still hope that the Soviet Union will work with us along this line now, as the late Mr. Vishinsky did last fall."

In the last General Assembly, Vishinsky dropped the Soviet Union's previous demand that an unconditional ban on atomic bombs should precede any disarmament agreement. Later, he joined in a unanimous vote to reconvene the 1954 disarmament subcommittee of Britain, Canada, France, Russia and the United States.

Lodge has been sitting on the subcommittee in London since it resumed private negotiations Feb. 25. Early today he flew back to New York, and this afternoon his deputy, Ambassador James J. Wadsworth, left on a plane for London to take his place.

LAS VEGAS, Nev., March 13 (AP)—There will be no atomic blast tomorrow, in the current test series, an Atomic Energy Commission spokesman announced after a conference today.

Hoover Group Urges End Of Some Lending Agencies

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—The Hoover Commission today recommended "broad reorganization" of the federal government's 104 lending, insuring and guaranteeing agencies. It said some should be liquidated, others put under combined private-government operation with higher charges to make them self supporting.

The report to Congress by the Commission on Government Reorganization headed by former President Herbert Hoover said federal loans, guarantees and insurance now amount to 244 billion dollars.

It said its recommendations would result in annual savings to the government of about 200 million dollars, plus the return to the Treasury of something like 6 1/2 billion dollars in capital funds now held by agencies which the commission said should be switched to private financing or liquidated.

The commission had high praise for agencies like the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. and the federal land banks, already operating with private finance under government control, and it called for much broader application of such "mutualization."

Demos Rapped For 'Tinkering' With Economy

Smathers Concedes Sponsors Lack Votes To Put Slash Through

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey tonight denounced a new Democratic-proposed income tax cut as a "political quickie gimmick."

He called for approval of the administration's plan to extend present corporate and excise tax rates "without addition of this latest misleading compromise proposal as a crippling amendment."

Humphrey said in a statement the tax program which Republicans pushed through last year had helped offset the economic effects of reduced government spending.

"The American people," he added, "can be seriously harmed by unwise tinkering with a tax program which has helped set the present economic recovery in motion."

Showdown This Week

Senate Democratic leaders have suggested making up for revenue lost through a proposed cut in personal income taxes by repealing dividend and certain business tax relief provisions of the 1954 law. Their proposal, slated for action this week, would give low-bracket taxpayers a $20 cut plus $10 for each dependent other than a spouse, starting next year.

Senate Democrats came up with the plan after their Finance Committee knocked down a House-adopted $20 reduction for every taxpayer and dependent. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), the majority floor leader, expects to offer the substitute formally on Tuesday.

Plan's Defeat Expected

Even some Democrats acknowledged they would have a tough time getting it across. Sen. Smathers (D-Fla.) said they are "shy four or five votes," as of now.

The substitute, besides repealing the 1954 provisions which Humphrey defended as having created jobs, would extend until mid-1957 existing corporation and excise tax rates. Johnson has said that altogether it would produce a net revenue gain of almost $4,900,000 in the next 27 months.

"Their claims of increased revenue to help balance this year's budget are fantastic," Humphrey said.

Democrats have argued the income tax saving would increase purchasing power. Humphrey said it would amount to "but a few cents a week for only part of the people."

Five Drown As Car Plunges Into Bayou

HOUMA, La., March 13 (AP)—An automobile swerved out of control and toppled into eight feet of bayou water at Gibson last night, drowning the driver and his four passengers.

Residents and police searched Tiger Bayou two hours before finding the submerged car. It lay upside down with one light shining.

The victims, were en route to Franklin, La., when the midnight crash took place about 20 miles west of Houma in southwestern Louisiana.

Stassen Says Basis For Asian Economic Buildup Being Laid

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—Foreign Aid Chief Harold E. Stassen returned today from a tour of what he called "The Arc of Free Asia." He said he was sure the foundation is being laid for a successful economic buildup in that part of the world.

"The needs are great," Stassen said, but he added that the non-Communist governments of Southeast Asia are preparing for area development "in an intelligent way."

Tomorrow he will report to President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles on the conclusions he reached during a three-week, 30,000-mile flying trip that touched seven Asian nations.

In talking with a reporter at the airport, he declined to discuss a fresh storm of Senate criticism aimed at trade between some Western nations and Red China, including the voyage of a Finnish tanker carrying jet plane fuel for the Chinese Communists.

He commented that "certain peaceful goods are permitted to be traded" but withheld "general comment until I get into the office and see what has been happening."

Stassen, as head of the Foreign Operations Administration, seems certain to face congressional quizzing about the trade issue. Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) announced yesterday he plans an investigation.

McClellan, chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee, said the number of commercial trips from this country's Allies to Red ports was on the increase last year. He said most of this trade with Red China was in ships flying the British flag, and he criticized "the failure of our government to do something about this most disgraceful situation."

The tanker Aruba, said to be loaded with 13,000 tons of jet fuel, was reported en route to Communist China from a Red Romanian port. Finland has said it can't interfere because the ship was chartered to Far Eastern Enterprises, Ltd.

McClellan said that firm is one of several owned by Chinese Reds and operating from Hong Kong, a British crown colony.

Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said the U.S. 7th Fleet should halt the tanker if Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists don't intercept it, or if "diplomatic moves" fail.

Hundreds Battle Forest Fires In Georgia, Florida

WAYCROSS, Ga., March 13 (AP)—A weary army of firefighters entrenched behind new lines battled grimly today to check raging forest fires in south Georgia and northern Florida.

Approximately 200 men are attempting to gain control of the week-old blaze which has burned over 25,000 acres of valuable timberland on a nine-mile front east of south Georgia's Okefenokee Swamp.

Florida firefighters are struggling to check the flames raging along a 12-mile front and which have already destroyed more than 13,000 acres and tens of thousands of dollars worth of timber a few miles northeast of Okefenokee.

C. H. Coulter, Florida state forester, said his crews are setting backfires from a new defense line in hope of containing the flames and that "the situation looks a little better."

Georgia District Forester G. W. Lavinder said volunteers and Forest Department employees using 36 tractor units, 5 airplanes and a helicopter are throwing up fire lines around two prongs of the blaze extending southward toward Hoboken and northward toward U.S. Highway 84. Hoboken is about 15 miles east of Waycross.

While the main fire body is not completely under control, Lavinder said he believed it "pretty well confined except for the two prongs." The main body of the blaze is along U.S. Highway 1.

The Tallahassee, Fla., Weather Bureau said there is no prospect of rain the next three or four days. Nothing but a prolonged downpour can help stop the current outbreak of fires, Coulter said.

Nehru Assailant Gets Sanity Tests

NAGPUR, India, March 13 (AP)—A knife-wielding rickshaw boy who leaped on Prime Minister Nehru's automobile yesterday was arraigned before a Nagpur magistrate today on a charge of attempting to murder Nehru.

The magistrate, holding an unusual Sunday hearing at his own home, ordered the prisoner—Babu Rao Laxman Kochale, 32—remanded for 15 days. Indian laws authorize maximum sentences of 10 years imprisonment for persons convicted of attempted murder.

In New Delhi, intelligence officials who accompanied Nehru back to the capital said today Babu Rao was sent to a mental hospital for observation and a doctor's report before any further action would be considered. For this reason, the officials declined further comment on the incident.

Police throughout India reportedly were seeking past associates of Babu Rao. He comes from western India's Maharashtra region. A man from this same region was hanged in connection with the 1948 assassination of Mohandas K. Gandhi.

Former Gov. Lane's Brother Succumbs

FREDERICK, March 13 (AP)—Charles S. Lane III, brother of former Gov. William Preston Lane Jr. and prominent Frederick civic and business leader, died last night.

Death came unexpectedly about 24 hours after Lane entered the hospital with an abdominal blood vessel rupture. He was 60 years old.

An executive of Dietrich and Gambrell Inc., grain and milling firm here, Lane was a former member of the Frederick County Board of Education and was active in the city's church and civil affairs.

Surviving in addition to his brother are his wife, two daughters and a sister.

Funeral services will be Tuesday at 11 a.m. at All Saints Episcopal Church where Lane was a vestryman.

Accused Major To "Say Plenty"

BAR HARBOR, Maine, March 13 (AP)—An Army major facing possible courtmartial on charges of collaborating with his Red captors in Korea vowed grimly today he would "have plenty to say" at the "proper time."

Maj. Ronald Alley, home on a 30-day furlough, told an interviewer:

"I will have plenty to say when the proper time comes. Until that time I have been advised by my attorney to make no further comment."

The 34-year-old officer posed for pictures with his German-born wife, Erna, in the living room of their neat little home here.

He stipulated, however, that their two children, Evelyn, 6, and Gary, 5, not be photographed.

The Army has accused the career artillery officer of 10 specific offenses violating five military laws.

Alley arrived home last night from Ft. Meade, Md., where he was transferred last week from the Army's Valley Forge General Hospital. He said tuberculosis which he contracted while a prisoner has been arrested.

Chairmen Of PSC, SRC Might Lose Jobs, Sun Says

BALTIMORE, March 13 (AP)—Chairmen John H. Hessey of the Public Service Commission and Russell H. McCain of the State Roads Commission were reported tonight in danger of losing their jobs.

Hessey, a Democrat, is a hold-over from the administration of former Gov. Lane. McCain is a Republican and has been a member of the Roads Commission for ten years.

The Baltimore Sun, quoting "informed sources in Annapolis," said "Hessey's term is expiring this spring and it is as certain as anything can be in politics that Gov. McKeldin will name a Republican to succeed him."

Republicans were unhappy when the governor re-appointed Frank H. Harper, another Democrat, to the PSC and left it in Democratic control, the newspaper said. Now, the Sun added, the State GOP is insisting that a Republican be named to succeed Hessey.

The McCain case is more complicated. Hewas named chairman of the Roads Commission by McKeldin in 1951 and under ordinary circumstances his job would be considered safe.

The commission has been under attack ever since it embarked on its ambitious $68 million dollar roads building program.

Its activities were an issue in the 1954 gubernatorial campaign and the McKeldin Administration has been on the defensive about the commission for almost a year.

The Sun said: "Some members of the administration believe that McCain has not exhibited the leadership his position calls for—that he has not been vigorous enough in fighting for the all-important roads improvement program, that he has helped make the program vulnerable to attack."

However, the newspaper said nothing will be done to shuffle membership on the commission until after the General Assembly ends its session early next month.

New Superspeed Antiaircraft Gun Developed By U.S.

SUNNYVALE, Calif., March 13 (AP)—Westinghouse lifted the lid today on a superspeed antiaircraft gun designed to knock out enemy bombers or "suicide" planes diving on U.S. warships.

It announced with permission of the Defense Department that it has been working on the guns for 10 years at its Sunnyvale plant.

The 3-inch gun, called the Mark 37, was designed by Westinghouse and Navy Bureau of Ordnance engineers for automatic, split-second firing. Plant manager George Gayer said it has undergone successful firing tests at the naval proving grounds in Dahlgren, Va.

State Unemployment Picture About Same

BALTIMORE, March 13 (AP)—Figures released this weekend by the State Department of Employment Security indicated there has been little change in Maryland's unemployment picture since January 1954.

In mid-January, the department estimated, there were 59,500 unemployed in Maryland. At the same time, there were about 775,400 working on non-farm jobs in the state.

Both figures varied less than one per cent from the same time last year. However, the department said year-end job furloughs were not quite as numerous this year as they were in 1954.

At mid-January, the number of jobs in the manufacture of durable goods throughout the state had decreased 11,500 since the previous January. The number of jobs in non-durable manufacturing remained virtually steady.

Symington Says People Forcing Out A-War Facts

BALTIMORE, March 13 (AP)—Sen. Symington (D-Mo.) said last night the Republican administration is making it necessary for information about nuclear fission warfare "to leak out to the people."

He also accused the administration of failing to budget adequate funds for Civil Defense.

Symington spoke to more than 500 persons attending the annual Young Democratic Clubs of Maryland Jackson Day dinner.

"Why aren't the people told the truth about fallout, for example?" he asked.

He said that until recently "scientists" had been the chief source of public information about nuclear weapons experiments but "we are finally forcing this administration to give us some facts."

This was an apparent reference to the recent disclosure of the Atomic Energy Commission about the far-reaching effects of radioactive fallout.

Criticizing budget appropriations for Civil Defense, the former secretary of the Air Force said the 46 million dollar appropriation "to protect the 150 million people of the United States" was an un-

Kimble Backs Amendment Of Judgeship Bill

The election of a second judge for Allegany County instead of appointment by the governor would be provided in an amendment to a bill introduced by State Sen. Robert B. Kimble to give the Fourth Judicial Circuit four judges.

Sen. Kimble confirmed the report that he is considering amending Senate Bill 376 along this line.

This bill as presented would keep two resident judges in Allegany County. The constitutional amendment affecting the state judiciary that was passed by voters in the November 2 election created a resident judgeship in Garrett County.

Former Garrett County Senator Neil C. Fraley was appointed to this post and upon the retirement of Chief Judge George Henderson, the Fourth Circuit would have only three judges — Judge Morgan C. Harris of Cumberland, Judge Fraley and Judge D. Kenneth McLaughlin of Hagerstown.

Sen. Kimble introduced the bill to rectify an "inadvertent error" in the constitutional amendment. The amendment was to add judges and not to remove them, he explained.

Since the beginning of the Fourth Circuit, Allegany County has traditionally had two resident judges.

The change in Sen. Kimble's bill would have the second Allegany County judge being elected in 1958, instead of having one appointed by Governor McKeldin upon the retirement of Judge Henderson.

There'll be a charming thank-you, but the wise wife always adds, "I will have to ask my husband!"

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

A model can also be a model wife and mother. Powers Girls have proved this time and time again. As top fashion models in the country, they are photographed during the day as glamor girls. But, they think nothing of donning an apron the minute they come home.

Aprons need not be snubbed by the bachelor girl, either, who is playing hostess-chef. As Powers Model Susan Holt puts it, "Those frilly bits make good mantraps."

This doesn't mean a girl has to drop all her glamor the minute she walks in the door. She can take on triple duties of career-wife-mother with great success if she drops all thoughts of business and concentrates entirely on her husband and children. And, be happier doing it.

Most Important Career

Actually, being a homemaker is the most important career in the world. One has to work at it constantly to make it the success it should be.

French-born Lilly Dache, one of the most famous hat designers in the world—and very familiar to Powers Girls who often model her trend-setting chapeaux—is married to a husband who also is a topflight businessman. Mme. Dache is probably one of the most charming and happy of all the wives in New York City who combine a career and marriage (she and her husband will celebrate their 25th anniversary this spring).

Mme. Dache's Secret

Her secret? We think she answers it herself in her bubbling mixture of French and English with her large, lively eyes twinkling. "The minute I hear Jean's voice calling 'Lilly!' as he stops at each floor from the elevator until he finds me . . . I drop everything, and from that time on I'm Mrs. Despres." Family life begins for them promptly when her husband arrives home at six every evening, and it lasts until eight next morning.

Mme. Dache knows a man must be the head of the family to be completely happy. He must be treated with love, respect, and admiration. A little flattery goes a long way—and she doesn't mean just telling him that he looks handsome or that she likes his tie. Whenever an invitation is extended or a decision is to be made, clever Lilly's answer is always the same. "I will have to ask my husband!"

In change there is opportunity

Increasingly,
American families are showing self-reliance

Millions of American families, on their own, are achieving greater financial independence. In doing so, they are gaining peace of mind, greater confidence, stronger self-reliance. They are earning an added measure of independence, and are in a position to do many things they could not do twenty years ago. This is one of the most significant changes taking place in America today.

One indication of this trend has been the tremendous expansion of family protection plans. For example:

- Hospital, surgical and medical plans. About 100 million Americans are now covered by some form of voluntary protection against the cost of medical care. Only 12 million had such protection in 1940.
- Pension plans. More than 10 million people are now covered by pension plans—millions more than in 1940.
- Life insurance. More than 93 million people now have life insurance, compared with 65 million people in 1940.

Life insurance is by far the largest single element in the family's security program. It is bought to guarantee a financial backlog if the father were to die; and families are discovering other uses of life insurance—to cover the mortgage, to help pay for the children's education, to build an adequate retirement program.

As a result of the added peace of mind growing out of the expansion of family protection plans, more American families are living happier and more productive lives. They are able to plan their living, both for today and for the future, with greater confidence.

Millions of families can now chart their course with new confidence, new independence

Mansfield Calls For Return To Era Of Secret Diplomacy

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) called today for a return to the era of "diplomacy by secret negotiation." He said many congressmen acquired the habit of "talking too much" about foreign policy.

Mansfield, naming no names, said in an interview:

"Many of us (in Congress) talk too much and cut the ground from under the regularly constituted authority whose duty it is to carry out the foreign policy of the United States."

Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark), like Mansfield a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, has expressed the same view on repeated occasions.

Mansfield noted the Constitution requires that treaties must be ratified by the Senate and said that "of course" both Senate and House must be kept informed on basic administration policies. But he added:

"The custom of unending comment by senators and representatives on every phase of foreign relations and on all breaking developments has become more prevalent, since the end of World War II."

He said that other nations "reading what members of Congress say, do not know exactly how far in the line of authority Secretary of State Dulles can go. Not knowing, they have great difficulty in arriving at decisions which they can be sure will be adhered to."

Asserting that diplomacy today occupies a "secondary position" in the conduct of U.S. foreign policy, Mansfield said Dulles, like some of his predecessors, travels "all over the world holding public conferences and issuing statements which by and large seem to accomplish very little."

A&P Market Modernization Starts Today

An extensive program of improvements to the A&P Supermarket located on Winewalk Street will be started today.

Ray Reuse, manager of the supermarket, said the contract for the heavy construction work will be done by the John I. Vandegrift Contracting Company of this city. No figure was released on the amount of money to be spent on the project but it will be extensive, Reuse said.

The entire outside of the building housing the supermarket will be painted. A new entrance will be made at the site of the present one with three doors, all operated by a "magic eye" device.

The flooring will be leveled in the area just in front of the check out section. The check out section will be moved away from the grocery shelving to give more space to shoppers.

A false ceiling will be erected where the large skylight is located in the center of the huge market. The ceiling will be painted white and the walls will be of pastel green. An entirely new system of fluorescent lighting will be installed.

An entirely new meat department will be installed which will feature a conveyor system for moving the cut meat from the refrigerated rooms where this work is done. The workers who wrap and weigh the meats will no longer have to operate in the refrigerated section, Reuse said. This will provide much better working conditions for these employees, he added.

The fresh frozen food department will be enlarged, a new dairy department, an entirely new coffee section and a single department will be used for the eggs and butter. This latter section will be 12 feet long.

Four new type check out stations will be used. This is a new method whereby a more speedy service for patrons will result, he added.

The grocery section, which comprises the main part of the supermarket, will have all new shelving. The groceries will be classified into groupings which will make for more efficient shopping by patrons, Reuse pointed out.

Reuse said the A&P Company decided on the major modernization program after a survey of the local outlet, which is one of the largest in the entire chain.

"It is being done," Reuse said, "as a result of the confidence our company places in the immediate future growth of the Cumberland area."

The modernization work is ex-

Judge Kessinger To Address Club

Judge Harold Caldwell Kessinger of New Jersey, chairman of Rotary International's redistricting committee, will be the speaker at the dinner meeting Wednesday 6:30 p. m. of the First Presbyterian Church Men's Club in the Fellowship Hall at the church. The dinner program is open to the men and women, and tickets are available from club members and at the church office.

Lewis J. Ort will preside and introduce Judge Kessinger.

Navy's Carrier Views Endorsed By House Group

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—The House Armed Services Committee today strongly endorsed current strategy of using carrier forces as the backbone of the Navy fleet.

It said vast naval striking forces built around supercarriers could be spread out so widely they would not be a "profitable" target to the enemy, "regardless of the type bomb he may be using."

The committee made this point in endorsing the construction of a fifth 60,000-ton supercarrier.

Carrier striking forces, the committee said in a report prepared for Congress, can be spread across 31,000 square miles of ocean—the size of Indiana.

The committee added: "The task force is in constant movement, and thereby can avoid most of the secondary effects of thermonuclear (hydrogen) weapons."

The report was written to support Navy requests for $1,317,000,000 for the year beginning July 1, to build the carrier and 33 other ships, including three atom-powered submarines. Another 28 vessels would be modernized.

The committee voted 34-0 last week to approve a bill authorizing this program. Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) said it may go to the House before the end of this month. The actual funds are contained in the Navy's budget, to be considered later.

Some congressmen have strongly criticized building another carrier and have indicated they will question the project on the House floor. They contend the big ships are too vulnerable to justify an estimated 200-million-dollar construction expenditure.

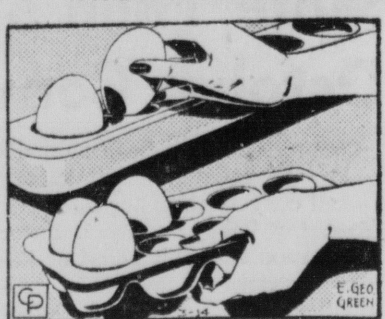

The report endorsed the Navy's argument that giant flattops now are necessary to accommodate increasingly heavy Navy aircraft.

An active global fleet, built around carriers, must be maintained, the committee said, "so that the Navy will be able to initiate defensive or offensive action at any time."

Dinner Scheduled

PIEDMONT—The Past Chiefs Association of Calanthe Temple 8, Pythian Sisters will hold a covered dish dinner at the Temple Tuesday at 5 p. m. All Pythians are invited to attend. The monthly business meeting will follow the dinner.

Mansfield Calls For Return To Era Of Secret Diplomacy

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) called today for a return to the era of "diplomacy by secret negotiation." He said many congressmen acquired the habit of "talking too much" about foreign policy.

Mansfield, naming no names, said in an interview:

"Many of us (in Congress) talk too much and cut the ground from under the regularly constituted authority whose duty it is to carry out the foreign policy of the United States."

Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.), like Mansfield a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, has expressed the same view on repeated occasions.

Mansfield noted the Constitution requires that treaties must be ratified by the Senate and said that "of course" both Senate and House must be kept informed on basic administration policies. But he added:

"The custom of unending comment by senators and representatives on every phase of foreign relations and on all breaking developments has become more prevalent, since the end of World War II."

He said that other nations "reading what members of Congress say, do not know exactly how far in the line of authority Secretary of State Dulles can go. Not knowing, they have great difficulty in arriving at decisions which they can be sure will be adhered to."

Asserting that diplomacy today occupies a "secondary position" in the conduct of U.S. foreign policy, Mansfield said Dulles, like some of his predecessors, travels "all over the world holding public conferences and issuing statements which by and large seem to accomplish very little."

The Sun Will Remain When Fuels Are Gone

It is disquieting, to older persons at any rate, to contemplate the possibility of a world in which there will be no coal, and nobody now alive will live to see it. But a mere century hence, predicts William Laurence, a science writer, the world will run out of coal, petroleum and natural gas if present rates of consumption continue.

But this will not herald the end of industrialization. Perhaps there will be no gasoline for cars and planes, and no coal to drive snorting locomotives. There will be atomic power, though.

Already Britain and the United States are working on plants to make electricity for power by atomic energy. Wheels of factories and vehicles will continue to turn, though precise details remain to be worked out.

Atomic power will not last either, according to some scientists. The supply of uranium and other radioactive materials may be adequate for 5,000 years. But that is a mere tick of time in a universe whose present age is estimated in billions of years. But in the post-atomic age the world will not close its factories and return to a subsistence hunting and fishing culture.

The prospect of harnessing solar energy is already in sight. No doubt man will have the answers before coal runs out. He will certainly have them before uranium is used up. And as long as solar energy remains—if it does not intensify and end all life on earth—it will be impossible for man to exhaust it. More of the sun's energy now strikes the earth and goes to waste than would be needed to run all the machinery in a score of worlds like this one.

But to Twentieth Century Man the earth 10,000 years from now would be a strange and weird place.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

It's Getting Too Tough

It used to be that an educated man knew Latin and Greek and maybe, if he were a theologian, some Hebrew; he read Plato and Aristotle and Plotinus and Marcus Aurelius; he could quote the poets and from Gibbon's "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire." Such a man looked serious, wore a Prince Albert suit and a silk hat and could deliver a public address full of quotations.

These days, to be forensic in the field of human learning, one needs more than a smattering of chemistry and physics, genetics and geopolitics. It is essential to be able to speak easily of numerous theories like those of Planck and Einstein and the fission and fusion of atoms. We are suddenly all alchemists. These days one wonders, at two in the morning in the Stork Club, what is the religion of Tibet and what has become of the Bali dancers since the Dutch East Indies became Indonesia.

To me television, for instance, is a noisy machine which startles me when the children put on some program which they must see no matter what else. So I read a speech by Frank M. Folsom, president of the Radio Corporation of America, who says about television:

"Speaking of the Polar Region, Admiral, you may be interested to know that recently in talking to a scientist he told me that it would take more electrons to weigh an ounce than snowflakes to create a polar blizzard covering 2,500 square miles. In fact on that basis of comparison, there would be 20 billion electrons to every snowflake!"

"Like snowflakes pile up to help form the great polar icecaps, so too, the tiny electron — billions and billions of them — have built up the vast new electronics industry. Today this new industry is six times larger than it was in 1947, when television first became a commercial reality."

The Admiral he addresses is Richard E. Byrd who specializes in the South Pole which is like when Marco Polo came home to tell of the wonders of the Cathay of the Yuan Dynasty. It is more exciting to read Marco Polo than about Matsuo and Quemoi which really have to do with Foochow and Amoy, two cities in which I once enjoyed myself, particularly as in Foochow the ducks' tongues are delectable.

I have been puzzled, since I read Frank Folsom's speech, about what kind of a mind it takes to deal practically with electrons. 20,000,000,000 of which would make a snowflake. There are people who do something with electrons which makes it possible for Jackie Gleason to do his stunt on television; others who somehow imprison electrons into a bomb which can blow up the world.

It used to be said that the theologians were all twisted because they worried about angels whom they could not hear, see, feel, or touch. But now the invisible and inaudible and untouchable become something that is matter, that produce things when they know the combinations. This thing called radar is terribly puzzling. I once thought that the two hardest things to learn were Russian and Chinese, but when I see that twisting, turning gadget in an airport called radar and I am told that if the Russians come, my very life depends upon it, I wonder at the marvel of the human mind that can produce something that peers into space for miles and miles and sees exactly what goes on.

But there is always another side to all this piling of fact upon fact, data upon data, technique upon technique. When men work daily with atoms and electrons which they cannot touch or see, can they fall to ask themselves what is power? The tiniest entity we can conceive, the electron, is the most powerful because it is the summation of vitality. When chemists put together dynamite or TNT, they were dealing with matter they could handle. Yet these compounds are trivial compared with the electron which nobody can handle, 20,000,000,000 of which would be like a snowflake.

And then we discover that we can produce so much from matter that we cannot handle. The paradox of television then becomes theology and not science, or are they one, as all things must be, the revelation of the Divine Intelligence, the unfolding of Total Wisdom — that we, in English, call God?

One Minute While We Call The Front Office

Survival May Depend On Space Weapon Development

WASHINGTON

In certain closely guarded West Coast factories — notably the Convair plant in California — work is going forward on an incredible weapon known as ATLAS. National survival may depend on whether the American ATLAS or the Soviet version of the same terrible weapon first conquers space.

ATLAS is the IBM, or intercontinental ballistic missile. Technical details are, quite properly, highly secret. But the essential characteristics which an IBM must have to do its job are well known, and what follows has been vetted to make sure that it will not be useful to the Soviet intelligence.

ATLAS is now just moving out of the design stage—indeed, there are still arguments going on about its proper configuration, and probably two or three versions will in the end be built and tested. But the general shape of the "bird" as missile men call their playthings, has been going on for some time.

Aimed Like Bullet

It will be an immense bird, a two-stage or stage-and-a-half rocket weighing 15 tons or more. It will reach, at maximum acceleration over 20 times the speed of sound, and it will attain a fantastic height above the earth of something like 600 miles. The IBM is not a guided missile—it is aimed, like a bullet from a gun, and in the long final stage of its journey through space, only the forces of the design stage—indeed, there are still arguments going on about its proper configuration, and probably two or three versions will in the end be built and tested. Report By Burmese Premier Shows U. S. Big Stick Policy Failed In Asia

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON The Burmese government has given a confidential, highly important report to the State Department regarding an exchange between Chinese Foreign Minister Chou En-lai and Burmese Premier U Nu. It sheds shocking light on how our policy of waving the big stick has failed in the Far East.

The Burmese premier told Chou quite recently that he was convinced the United States meant business and would now fight to defend Formosa and the surrounding area. Chou En-lai's reply was a hearty laugh.

He said the United States had been cutting its military budget at the same time it was shaking the big stick and he just wasn't worried a bit.

Premier U Nu argued that he was certain the United States, despite various other retreats, was now ready to stand pat.

But the Chinese foreign minister continued to laugh.

Later the Burmese passed this on to us for whatever it was worth.

"Massive Bluff"

What Chou En-lai had in mind, of course, was the long series of "massive warnings" given by Secretary of State Dulles, Vice President Nixon, and the President himself which in the Orient had been tabbed "massive bluff." Every time we have warned we have backed down in Indochina or withdrawn from the Tachen islands or cut the budget further—as detailed in this column last week.

All this is partly why Secretary Dulles has been pounding conference tables behind closed doors in the Foreign Relations and Foreign Affairs committees and stating with more vehemence than ever that the United States now means business, that he will not back down again.

If Dulles now means what he says and if the Chinese Reds still don't believe him, this could easily lead to war.

At any rate, here are some of the backstage happenings that have taken place in quick succession since Dulles arrived from the Far East.

1. Dulles has definitely and positively recommended to Eisenhower that the United States defend the small-off-shore islands of Quemoy and Matsu. Hitherto he had been opposed.

2. Eisenhower, before making a final decision, has ordered the Joint Chiefs of Staff to review the military consequences of defending the two islands.

It seems strange that this was not done a long time ago. However, the Joint Chiefs have been meeting almost continually during the past week, and by the time this appears in print the review should be completed.

Joint Chiefs Split

It will show, as indicated in earlier columns, a serious split inside the Joint Chiefs of Staff with Gen. Matt Ridgway Army chief of staff emphatically opposed to getting bogged down on the islands immediately adjacent to the Chinese mainland.

Ridgway argues that the islands are only three minutes flying time from the mainland; that the Chinese could pepper our installations with both aerial bombs and artillery, make mincemeat of our defenses. He believes it would be folly of the worst kind to defend, that thousands of American troops would be lost, that instead we should evacuate Chiang Ki-shek's army immediately.

U. S. naval reports are also disconcerting. Adm. Felix Stump, who's been looking over Matsuo is not much impressed with Chiang's makeshift defenses. He fears the 9,000 poorly trained troops on the island—if unsupported—could not hold out for more than a week.

Eat Seeds For Life

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON PARK, Fla.—This story may be valueless; or it may be most important. It will not cause anyone to eat less canned or frozen fruits and vegetables, but it may develop a new industry.

Seeds Contain Life

There is in this village the Florida Research and Water Company. It owns the local water company and is interested in the study of live seeds small enough to eat alive. It also believes in "raw" water and "raw" milk—that is, pure spring water which has not had the living matter killed by chlorine, and pure milk which has not been pasteurized. It recommends the eating of more "whole cereals," more "raw" vegetables, and "raw" fruits, especially those consisting largely of live seeds, like okra—but they should be ripe seeds; also live "sprouts and buds." It believes in juicing machines, but not for live seeds.

Let me illustrate: It is impossible to eat a peach seed, and probably unwise to swallow live orange, acerola, or apple seeds, unless they are ground; but ripe tomatoes, strawberries, blackberries, blueberries, bananas, figs, and pomegranates should be eaten, seeds and all, uncooked. Of course, all raw fruit and vegetables should be carefully washed. The acerola berry of Puerto Rico is reported to have 50 times the Vitamin C—per gram—contained in an orange. The second paragraph on Page 59 of the Reader's Digest for January 1955 is thought-provoking.

Should Peas Be Swallowed?

All agree that string beans may be cut up and cooked for a few minutes. Some people, however, believe that sunflower seeds, peas, small beans, nuts, and psyllium, onion, and celery seeds should only be softened in warm water and swallowed like pills! The thought is that all vegetables have three functions: (1) Supplying vitamins, minerals, etc.; (2) supplying much-needed bulk; and (3) through their living seeds supplying that unknown and intangible "something" known as life.

That people lived, before the days of cooking, to 120 or even 400 years of age may have been due to their feeding upon life. Sufficient

Exciting news to the jewelry industry is the announcement that a big industrial firm's laboratory has artificially produced a diamond. Mighty profitable way, we'd say, of cooking up a mess of carats.

In view of the abnormally cold weather which has gripped Florida, the man at the next desk says he wouldn't be a bit surprised

Admiral Carney, chief of naval operations, just returned from the Far East, also reports that the U. S. Navy could not operate between Quemoy or Matsu and the mainland. This means the Navy can't throw a cordon around the islands and isolate them in case of battle.

The Real Decision

All this boils down to the fact that there is only one way to defend these islands—the atom bomb.

The Army already has a store of small A-bombs on hand which can decimate troops without injuring civilians. This was hinted by Secretary Dulles in his backstage talks with senators.

What President Eisenhower faces, therefore, is not a decision to defend a group of small islands off the Chinese mainland.

What he really faces is a momentous decision to drop the atom bomb for the first time since it was dropped during the closing days of the Japanese war 10 years ago.

NOTE — Use of the atom bomb on the Chinese mainland will, of course, send waves of propaganda hatred reverberating against us throughout Asia. Even if the bomb is confined to troops, the reaction will be just as bad as the reaction against the use of poison gas in World War I. In contrast, the use of the boycott-blockade, favorite weapon of the Oriental, would cause no bad backfire, would in the long run be more effective.

Caustic Senator

Florida's matinee-idol Sen. George Smathers was recording a speech the other day, in support of President Eisenhower's reciprocal trade program.

A visitor in the recording studios stopped Smathers as he was leaving.

"I am a Kentucky coal-mine operator, and I want you to know I disagree with everything you said," protested the visitor.

"I'm glad to hear that," replied Smathers.

"You're glad to hear that I disagree with you?" demanded the coal man.

"No, I'm glad to hear you're from Kentucky," retorted the Florida senator as he departed. (Copyright, 1955, The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Eat Seeds For Life

By Roger W. Babson

experiments have not been completed to prove whether live seeds should or should not be eaten uncrushed, before they are "killed" by juicing machines or boiling. They, however, are part of my diet.

Should We Eat Cooked Eggs?

Boiling anything long enough kills life. It is believed that some canning, dehydrating, or freezing also destroys this life—though not the vitamins and minerals. However, the age of peas, beans, and corn does not affect their life-giving powers. Corn kernels over 3,000 years old, taken from Egyptian tombs, will sprout the same as if gathered yesterday. It is debatable whether we should eat raw or cooked eggs. When I had T. B. my doctor insisted that I eat only uncooked raw, fertile eggs containing life. He also recommended the uncooked coral of lobsters and the live roe of fish.

All beautiful birds live on live seeds, live worms, and live spring water. Their food must be alive. The only birds which will eat dead meat are the horrible crows and buzzards; dangerous insects and bacteria will also eat dead things. The same principle applies to animals of the forest. Certain moldy cheeses and yeasts contain life. Live seeds in 15-cent envelopes can be purchased at any hardware store.

How To Keep Beautiful

Those who have seen any fish (from mackerel to sharks) pulled alive out of the ocean have been impressed by their natural beauty and proportions. When analyzing the diet of these fish, we learn that the smallest fish live on minute animal and plant life known as plankton and algae; that the larger fish live on the smaller live fish; and so on up to the whale. But, all insist their food be alive.

I am not vouching for any theory of life, but it does seem as if the above evidence should be considered when selecting our diet. Once, no doctor had recommended B12 pills or brewer's yeast; but today they recommend them. Perhaps we will live to see doctors recommend the addition of non-fattening live seeds or phosphatides to our diets.

Moscow reports a man 135 years old. His birthday cake must look like a miniature forest fire.

College men, a survey report in an eastern newspaper reveals, have taken to wearing hats. Those campus cutups! they'll do most anything to attract attention!

A sports writing friend explains why the big league baseball teams start their regular season schedule so early. It's the only way, says he, the club owners can get their players out of those expensive Florida training camps.

The Sun Will Remain When Fuels Are Gone

It is disquieting, to older persons at any rate, to contemplate the possibility of a world in which there will be no coal, and nobody now alive will live to see it. But a mere century hence, predicts William Laurence, a science writer, the world will run out of coal, petroleum and natural gas if present rates of consumption continue.

But this will not herald the end of industrialization. Perhaps there will be no gasoline for cars and planes, and no coal to drive snorting locomotives. There will be atomic power, though.

Already Britain and the United States are working on plants to make electricity for power by atomic energy. Wheels of factories and vehicles will continue to turn, though precise details remain to be worked out.

Atomic power will not last either, according to some scientists. The supply of uranium and other radioactive materials may be adequate for 5,000 years. But that is a mere tick of time in a universe whose present age is estimated in billions of years. But in the post-atomic age the world will not close its factories and return to a subsistence hunting and fishing culture.

The prospect of harnessing solar energy is already in sight. No doubt man will have the answers before coal runs out. He will certainly have them before uranium is used up. And as long as solar energy remains—if it does not intensify and end all life on earth—it will be impossible for man to exhaust it. More of the sun's energy now strikes the earth and goes to waste than would be needed to run all the machinery in a score of worlds like this one.

But to Twentieth Century Man the earth 10,000 years from now would be a strange and weird place.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

It's Getting Too Tough

It used to be that an educated man knew Latin and Greek and maybe, if he were a theologian, some Hebrew; he read Plato and Aristotle and Plotinus and Marcus Aurelius; he could quote the poets and from Gibbon's "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire." Such a man looked serious, wore a Prince Albert suit and a silk hat and could deliver a public address full of quotations.

These days, to be forensic in the field of human learning, one needs more than a smattering of chemistry and physics, genetics and geophysics. It is essential to be able to speak easily of numerous theories like those of Planck and Einstein and the fission and fusion of atoms. We are suddenly all alchemists. These days one wonders, at two in the morning in the Stork Club, what is the religion of Tibet and what has become of the Bali dancers since the Dutch East Indies became Indonesia.

To me television, for instance, is a noisy machine which startles me when the children put on some program which they must see no matter what else. So I read a speech by Frank M. Folsom, president of the Radio Corporation of America, who says about television:

"Speaking of the Polar Region, Admiral, you may be interested to know that recently in talking to a scientist he told me that it would take more electrons to weigh an ounce than snowflakes to create a polar blizzard covering 2,500 square miles. In fact on that basis of comparison, there would be 20 billion electrons to every snowflake!"

"Like snowflakes pile up to help form the great polar icecaps, so too, the tiny electron—by billions and billions of them—have built up the vast new electronics industry. Today this new industry is six times larger than it was in 1947, when television first became a commercial reality."

The Admiral he addresses is Richard E. Byrd who specializes in the South Pole which is like when Marco Polo came home to tell of the wonders of the Cathay of the Yuan Dynasty. It is more exciting to read Marco Polo than about Matsuo and Quemoi which really have to do with Foochow and Amoy, two cities in which I once enjoyed myself, particularly as in Foochow the ducks' tongues are delectable.

I have been puzzled, since I read Frank Folsom's speech, about what kind of a mind it takes to deal practically with electrons, 20,000,000,000 of which would make a snowflake. There are people who do something with electrons which makes it possible for Jackie Gleason to do his stunt on television; others who somehow imprison electrons into a bomb which can blow up the world.

It used to be said that the theologians were all twisted because they worried about angels whom they could not hear, see, feel, or touch. But now the invisible and inaudible and untouchable become something that is matter, that produce things when they know the combinations. This thing called radar is terribly puzzling. I once thought that the two hardest things to learn were Russian and Chinese, but when I see that twisting, turning gadget in an airport called radar and I am told that if the Russians come, my very life depends upon it, I wonder at the marvel of the human mind that can produce something that peers into space for miles and miles and sees exactly what goes on.

But there is always another side to all this piling of fact upon fact, data upon data, technique upon technique. When men work daily with atoms and electrons which they cannot touch or see, can they fail to ask themselves what is power? The tiniest entity we can conceive, the electron, is the most powerful because it is the summation of vitality. When chemists put together dynamite or TNT, they were dealing with matter they could handle. Yet these compounds are trivial compared with the electron which nobody can handle, 20,000,000,000 of which would be like a snowflake.

And then we discover that we can produce so much from matter that we cannot handle. The paradox of television then becomes theology and not science, or are they one, as all things must be, the revelation of the Divine Intelligence, the unfolding of Total Wisdom—that we, in English, call God?

One Minute While We Call The Front Office

Survival May Depend On Space Weapon Development

By Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

In certain closely guarded West Coast factories—notably the Convair plant in California—work is going forward on an incredible weapon known as ATLAS. National survival may depend on whether the American ATLAS or the Soviet version of the same terrible weapon first conquers space.

ATLAS is the IBM, or intercontinental ballistic missile. Technical details are, quite properly, highly secret. But the essential characteristics which an IBM must have to do its job are well known, and what follows has been vetted to make sure that it will not be useful to the Soviet intelligence.

ATLAS is now just moving out of the design stage—indeed, there are still arguments going on about its proper configuration, and probably two or three versions will in the end be built and tested. But the general shape of the "bird" as missile men call their playthings, has been going on for some time.

Aimed Like Bullet

It will be an immense bird, a two-stage or stage-and-a-half rocket weighing 15 tons or more. It will reach, at maximum acceleration over 20 times the speed of sound, and it will attain a fantastic height above the earth of something like 600 miles. The IBM is not a guided missile—it is aimed, like a bullet from a gun, and in the long final stage of its journey through space, only the forces of nature guide it to its victim-city.

It is this characteristic, together with its incredible speed, which makes the IBM, married to a hydrogen warhead a true ultimate weapon. For the best defense against a guided missile is to befuddle its guidance system—but the IBM, is not guided. A man can protect himself against a bullet with a bullet-proof shield, or by ducking out of the way. But a city cannot duck out of the way of a ballistic missile, and there is no way of erecting a shield over a city.

There was a time when ATLAS seemed a dream bird—a weapon of the very distant future. But now important technological breakthroughs have been made. Here it is necessary to be vague. But it can be said that new developments in bomb design have made it possible sharply to reduce the weight of the warhead. The importance of this can be gauged by the fact that, for every pound off target is close enough with a hydrogen bomb.

Finally, it also now seems likely that a solution to the "problem of re-entry" will be found. When a

Simplified By H-Bomb

Moreover, ways have been found to nudge the bird on to a desired course, throughout the first stage of its journey. This has something like the effect of increasing the length of a rifle barrel, and thus increasing the rifle's accuracy. The nudging process has partly solved the once seemingly insoluble problem of hitting a target half-way round the world. And the power of the hydrogen bomb has, of course, simplified the problem far more, since several miles off target is close enough with a hydrogen bomb.

The change of vision that occurs with advancing years (presbyopia) is so gradual, most individuals never realize when it begins. The eyes have a way of adjusting to minor defects to maintain clear vision. The pupils contract, the lenses change, and the person squints to shut out the rays of light that distort the image. But the day of reckoning is bound to come.

There is a limit to how much strain the eyes can take to focus the rays. Overdoing it leads to headache and tiredness in the orbital region. Words become indistinct or blurred.

Friends who have gone through the experience are likely to remark, "Les could see all right if his arms were a little longer." Those with more tact suggest, "Try my glasses and notice the difference."

Glasses solve the problem by making near vision easier; there is no need to continue holding the hymnal or the menu at arm's-length to read. Furthermore, when vision becomes clear again, close work is a pleasure.

But the man or woman whose occupation calls for combined close and distant work soon finds fault with ordinary reading specs. They may help a lecturer, for example, to see his notes perfectly but on looking out at the audience, his vision blurs. The same occurs to the bank teller who must tabulate rows of figures one moment and talk to a customer the next.

It is annoying to have to put on glasses when doing close work and slip them off when more distant vision is required. It is here that bifocals enter the picture as an alternative. These lenses are ground so that the lower part is used for near vision and the upper is clear or refracted for distance if necessary. In this way the user does not have to change glasses when he switches from close to distant vision.

But bifocals do not satisfy everyone. The individual can see everything within 20 inches and beyond 50, but not what is in between. He requires better visual acuity for this intermediate space and here is where trifocals come in handy. With a single pair of glasses, the person is able to read the paper, look at the calendar on his desk, and enjoy the picture on the billboard across the street.

Try And Stop Me!

One of the choicest of the countless Lincoln legends concerns the blue-blooded lady from Boston who assured him, "In the Back Bay section, Mr. President, we place all our emphasis on breeding." "In Illinois, ma'am," drawled Mr. Lincoln, "we thought that was fun, too. But we did manage to keep up a few outside interests."

Plumb in the middle of Saper-tauckert's town square, two for eign-made sports cars crashed head-on. Sheriff Knopf was on the job instantly. Note-book in hand. "Gents," he said to the jarred drivers, "what I want to know is which of your two cars hit the other one first?"

"That Tony's too fresh," complained Anne to her Vassar roommate. "He knows too many risque songs." "Does he sing them to you?" asked the roommate. "Not exactly," admitted Anne. "But he whistles 'em!'"

Exciting news to the jewelry industry is the announcement that a big industrial firm's laboratory has artificially produced a diamond. Mighty profitable way, we'd say, of cooking up a mess of carats.

Off-the-face styles to feature Easter, bonnets, we read. However, men's hats, especially in windy March will be generally off-the-head.

In view of the abnormally cold weather which has gripped Florida, the man at the next desk says he wouldn't be a bit surprised if the next shipment of oranges from that state looked blue.

Moscow reports a man 135 years old. His birthday cake must look like a miniature forest fire.

College men, a survey report in an eastern newspaper reveals, have taken to wearing hats. Those campus cutups! they'll do most anything to attract attention!

A sports writing friend explains why the big league baseball teams start their regular season schedule so early. It's the only way, says he, the club owners can get their players out of those expensive Florida training camps.

All-States League Will Make Decision At Sunday Meeting

The All-States Baseball League met here yesterday and decided to wait another week before making a decision as to whether the league will continue or dissolve for the 1955 season.

Four teams namely, Moorefield, Frostburg, Centerville and Cumberland were represented at yesterday's session at the Moose Home. While officials of the league would like to start the season with at least six teams there were some present who favored a four-team circuit if more teams than that were not available.

If there are any other clubs in the area interested they are requested to send representatives to the next meeting, Sunday, March 20 at 2 p. m. at the local Moose Club.

Patty Berg Captures Titleholders Tourney

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 13 (AP)—Patty Berg won her sixth women's titleholders golf crown today by shooting a 73 and carving two strokes off the 72-hole tournament record with a 291 total.

The St. Andrews, Ill., redhead pocketed $1,000 of the $5,000 purse and hoisted her winnings on the winter circuit to $4,247. Her 73 today, one stroke over men's par for the 6,270-yard Augusta Country Club course, followed rounds of 76, 68 and 74.

Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., former national amateur champion, closed with a 74 for 293 and captured second place, two strokes behind Miss Berg.

Champion Goes On TV With Lou Costello

HOLLYWOOD, March 13 (INS)—Carl "Bobo" Olson, middleweight boxing champion, tries to knock out a few laughs instead of boxers tonight by climbing into the ring with Comedian Lou Costello on the Colgate Comedy Hour TV show.

The show, which begins on NBC-TV at 8 p. m. (PST) will be the second waltz in as many nights for the 168-pound fighter, who last night easily decimated California middleweight king Willie Vaughn in 10 rounds in Hollywood.

Last night's bout may have been some indication of tonight's performance. At one point in his unpleasantness with Vaughn, Olson looked at Costello at ringside and stuck out his tongue at the funnyman.

Actually, Lou Costello once was a pretty good lightweight boxer, although the records, apparently not compiled by friends of his, list him as losing 13 out of 13 bouts.

Tribe Takes Lead In Giant Series

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 13 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians grabbed a 2-1 lead in their spring world series with the New York Giants by walloping the world champions, 13-6 today.

To do it, the Indians had to come from behind. With Sal Maglie pitching four scoreless innings in his 1955 debut, the Giants moved into a 4-0 lead. But when rookie Pete Burnside replaced the Barber, the Tribe went to work.

They scored twice in the fifth, went ahead with three more in the sixth to chase Burnside and continued their hammering at the expense of righthander Al Worthington.

Wally Westlake, veteran Tribe outfielder, was hit in the head with a pitched ball by Worthington in the seventh inning and left the game, although he did not appear seriously hurt.

Chicago White Sox Trim Dodgers, 6-5

MIAMI, Fla., March 13 (AP)—Carl Spooner, the Brooklyn Dodgers pitching sensation of last September, shut out the White Sox on two hits in as many innings today but Chicago won the exhibition baseball game 6-5.

Spoooner, who struck out 27 in his first two major league games, fanned one batter.

However, other probable Brooklyn starters were much easier to hit and the White Sox squared the series. Billy Loes and Johnny Podres were each bumped for three runs on as many hits and a combined total of five walks in their three inning spins.

The Dodgers tallied an unearned run off Harry Dorish who gave up two hits for the first three innings. Morris Martin allowed five hits but no runs. Dick Donovan failed to finish the ninth after Chico Fernandez led off with a homer and Kelly Swift came in and threw another gopher to Duke Snider with one on.

Wyatt, Shelton Set Records In Pan-American

Excel In High Jump, Argentina Cops Lead

By TED SMITS

MEXICO CITY, March 13 (AP)—Argentina won two gold medals against one for the United States in the opening game of track and field competition in the second Pan-American Games today, and records were thoroughly kicked around despite the altitude.

A crowd of 35,000 saw Herman Wyatt and Ernest Shelton, of the U.S.A., set a new games mark in the high jump at 2:01 meters (6 feet 7 inches). Shelton, from Southern California, was given first because of fewer misses. Wyatt is an Army man from San Jose College.

Ingeborg Pfuller of Argentina threw the discus a 43.19 meters (141 feet 8 1/2 inches), also a Pan-American record.

Oswald Suarez of Argentina won the 10,000 meters as Gordon McKenzie, the sole United States entry, ran out of gas half way through the race.

However, the United States gave proof of its track power.

Win 100 Meter Heats
Rodney Richards, a U. S. Army lieutenant, and Mike Agostini of Trinidad each did their 100 meter heats in :10.5 for a new mark, after Dean Smith, the Texas sprinter, had tied the old mark at :10.6 in the first heat.

The great United States trio in the 800 meters—Lon Spurrier, Arnold Sowell, and Mal Whitfield—all qualified for Tuesday's finals with ease, three American girls, Mae Faggs, Isabel Daniels, and Mabel Landry, won the three heats of the 60 meter trials, Miss Faggs and Miss Daniels being timed in :07.5 and Miss Landry in :07.6.

The United States baseball team, coached by John Kobs of Michigan State, won its opening game from Mexico, 5-1, with William P. Lore of Smithville, N. C., the winning pitcher. Don Lupaszewski of the University of Illinois and Kenny DeCarlo, an Air Force member from Philadelphia, sparked a three-run second inning for the North Americans.

Argentina Is Leader
Argentina, the defending champion in the games, took the lead after three finals had been completed. On the unofficial scoring basis, Argentina had 25 points against 16 for the United States and 11 for Mexico. Other scorers were Chile 7, Cuba 6, Brazil 4, Canada 2, Guatemala 1, Puerto Rico 1.

School Baseball League Meets At Allegany Tuesday

A meeting of the eight-team Bi-State Interscholastic Baseball Conference will be held Tuesday at 8 p. m. at Allegany High School, President Walter L. Bowers announced last night.

A schedule for 1955 will be adopted. Teams in the high school circuit are Bruce, Beall, Valley, Mt. Savage, Hyndman, Fort Hill, LaSalle and Allegany.

Allegany and LaSalle shared the title last year with 13-3 records.

All-States League Will Make Decision At Sunday Meeting

The All-States Baseball League met here yesterday and decided to wait another week before making a decision as to whether the league will continue or dissolve for the 1955 season.

Four teams, namely, Moorefield, Frostburg, Centerville and Cumberland were represented at yesterday's session at the Moose Home. While officials of the league would like to start the season with at least six teams there were some present who favored a four-club circuit if more team than that were not available.

If there are any other clubs in the area interested they are requested to send representatives to the next meeting, Sunday, March 20 at 2 p. m. at the local Moose Club.

Patty Berg Captures Titleholders Tourney

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 13 (AP)—Patty Berg won her sixth women's Titleholders golf crown today by shooting a 73 and carving two strokes off the 72-hole tournament record with a 291 total.

The St. Andrews, Ill., redhead pocketed $1,000 of the $5,000 purse and hoisted her winnings on the winter circuit to $4,247. Her 73 today, one stroke over men's par for the 6,270-yard Augusta Country Club course, followed rounds of 76, 68 and 74.

Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., former national amateur champion, closed with a 74 for 293 and captured second place, two strokes behind Miss Berg.

Olson Defeats Willie Vaughn

Champion Goes On TV With Lou Costello

HOLLYWOOD, March 13 (INS)—Carl "Bobo" Olson, middleweight boxing champion, tries to knock out a few laughs instead of boxers tonight by climbing into the ring with comedian Lou Costello on the Colgate Comedy Hour TV show.

The show, which begins on NBC-TV at 8 p. m. (PST) will be the second night in as many nights for the 168-pound fighter, who last night easily decisioned California middleweight king Willie Vaughn in 10 rounds in Hollywood.

Last night's bout may have been some indication of tonight's performance. At one point in his unpleasantness with Vaughn, Olson looked at Costello at ringside and stuck out his tongue at the funnyman.

Actually, Lou Costello once was a pretty good lightweight boxer, although the records, apparently not compiled by friends of his, list him as losing 13 out of 13 bouts.

Tribe Takes Lead In Giant Series

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 13 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians grabbed a 2-1 lead in their spring world series with the New York Giants by walloping the world champions, 13-6 today.

To do it, the Indians had to come from behind. With Sal Maglie pitching four scoreless innings in his 1955 debut, the Giants moved into a 4-0 lead. But when rookie Pete Burnside replaced the Barber, the Tribe went to work.

They scored twice in the fifth, went ahead with three more in the sixth to chase Burnside and continued their hammering at the expense of righthander Al Worthington.

Wally Westlake, veteran Tribe outfielder, was hit in the head with a pitched ball by Worthington in the seventh inning and left the game, although he did not appear seriously hurt.

Chicago White Sox Trim Dodgers, 6-5

MIAMI, Fla., March 13 (AP)—Karl Spooner, the Brooklyn Dodgers pitching sensation of last September, shut out the White Sox on two hits in as many innings today but Chicago won the exhibition baseball game 6-5.

Spooner, who struck out 27 in his first two major league games, fanned one batter.

However, other probable Brooklyn starters were much easier to hit and the White Sox squared the series. Billy Loes and Johnny Podres were each bumped for three runs on as many hits and a combined total of five walks in their three inning spins.

The Dodgers tallied an unearned run off Harry Dorish who gave up two hits for the first three innings. Morris Martin allowed five hits but no runs. Dick Donovan failed to finish the ninth after Chico Fernandez left with a homer and Kelly Swift came in and threw another gopher to Duke Snider with one on.

Wyatt, Shelton Set Records In Pan-American

Excel In High Jump, Argentina Cops Lead

By TED SMITS

MEXICO CITY, March 13 (AP)—Argentina won two gold medals against one for the United States in the opening game of track and field competition in the second Pan-American Games today, and records were thoroughly kicked around despite the altitude.

A crowd of 35,000 saw Herman Wyatt and Ernest Shelton, of the U.S.A., set a new games mark in the high jump at 2:01 meters (6 feet 7 inches). Shelton, from Southern California, was given first because of fewer misses. Wyatt is an Army man from San Jose College.

Ingeborg Pfuller of Argentina threw the discus a 43.19 meters (141 feet 8 1/2 inches), also a Pan-American record.

Oswald Suarez of Argentina won the 10,000 meters as Gordon McKenzie, the sole United States entry, ran out of gas half way through the race.

However, the United States gave proof of its track power.

Win 100 Meter Heats

Rodney Richards, a U. S. Army lieutenant, and Mike Agostini of Trinidad each did their 100 meter heats in :10.5 for a new mark, after Dean Smith, the Texas sprinter, had tied the old mark at :10.6 in the first heat.

The great United States trio in the 800 meters—Lon Spurrier, Arnold Sowell, and Mal Whitfield—all qualified for Tuesday's finals with ease, three American girls, Mae Faggs, Isabel Daniels, and Mabel Landry, won the three heats of the 60 meter trials, Miss Faggs and Miss Daniels being timed in :07.5 and Miss Landry in :07.6.

The United States baseball team, coached by John Kobs of Michigan State, won its opening game from Mexico, 5-1, with William P. Lore of Smithville, N. C., the winning pitcher. Don Lupaszewski of the University of Illinois and Kenny DeCarlo, an Air Force member from Philadelphia, sparked a three-run second inning for the North Americans.

Argentina Is Leader

Argentina, the defending champion in the games, took the lead after three finals had been completed. On the unofficial scoring basis, Argentina had 25 points against 16 for the United States and 11 for Mexico. Other scorers were Chile 7, Cuba 6, Brazil 4, Canada 2, Guatemala 1, Puerto Rico 1.

Yankees Suffer 4th Loss In Row

Bauer Belts Homer But Bosox Win, 4-2

ST. PETERSBURG, March 13 (AP)—The New York Yankees went down to their fourth straight exhibition defeat today when the Boston Red Sox whipped them 4-2 before a crowd of 3,269.

The Bombers now have dropped two games to the Sox and a pair to the St. Louis Cardinals and have made but five runs in 36 innings. This is the first time the perennial champions have lost four straight at the start of the citrus circuit.

New York was outlited, 10 to 5 today and scored only in the third inning when Hank Bauer drove a two-run homer over the bleacher seats in left center. It was the first circuit clout of the spring for the Yankees.

Boston won the game in the fifth with a three-run cluster which was abetted by three passes, an error by third baseman Andy Carey and scoring singles by Al Van Alstyne and Pete Daley. The latter, a rookie catcher, drove home two runs with his hit when the bases were filled. His four hits beat the Yankees at Sarasota Saturday.

Duquesne To Battle Louisville In NIT Quarter Finals

Niagara Tests Cincinnati In Second Game

Double Bill Is Set For Garden; LaSalle, Dons Score In NCAA

By BEN OLAN The Associated Press

Hardly anyone among the legion of college basketball followers will deny that Tom Gola of LaSalle, Bill Russell of San Francisco, Dick Boushka of St. Louis and Maurice Stokes of St. Francis (Pa.) are four of the nation's outstanding players. And they're proving it again in the major post-season tournaments.

All-America Gola scored 30 points Saturday night to lead LaSalle to an easy 99-64 victory over Canisius, moving the Explorers into the semi-finals of the NCAA Tournament against Iowa, the Big Ten champs. The Hawkeyes got past the quarter-final round by nipping Marquette, 86-81.

Dons Top Marquette Russell, also selected on the Associated Press' All-America team, sagged 29 points as St. Francis San Francisco edged Oregon State 57-56 to move into the semi-finals against Colorado, 93-81 conqueror of Bradley.

Boushka, a standout for St. Louis all season, dropped in 32 points while the Billikens were shattering the National Invitation Tourney and Madison Square Garden scoring canned 29 points as St. Francis also got past the first round with an 89-78 triumph over Seton Hall.

In other NIT action, Louisville outclassed Manhattan 91-86 and Niagara outscored Lafayette 83-70. So the remainder of the competition for the two titles shapes up this way:

NCAA — March 18 semi-finals at Kansas City: Colorado vs. San Francisco and Iowa vs. LaSalle.

March 19 — Finals at Kansas City.

Dukes Play Tonight

NIT — Tonight quarter-finals: Louisville vs. Duquesne and Niagara vs. Cincinnati.

Tuesday quarter-finals: St. Louis vs. Dayton and St. Francis vs. Holy Cross. All games in Madison Square Garden.

LaSalle, the defending NCAA titleholder, treated the crowd in Philadelphia's Palestra to a magnificent exhibition of ball handling as the Explorers out-passed and out-classed the Canisius team. LaSalle's 99 points broke its own NCAA scoring record of 95 tallies and its victory tied the tourney mark of eight straight without a defeat set by Oklahoma A&M in 1945, 1946 and 1949. Kentucky ran up a string of 12 straight later but was defeated before starting the streak.

Utah Runs Wild

However, the Explorers' scoring record was short-lived as Utah ran roughshod over Seattle 108-85 in a consolation game at Corvallis, Ore. Art Bunte, Utah's pudgy center, poured in 35 points to lead the Skyline Conference champ.

Russell scored 18 points for San Francisco in the first half and the Dons held a comfortable margin through most of the second half. But with one minute to play, Oregon State spurted from a 56-49 deficit to 57-55. After State converted

In 1940, one farm worker could produce enough food for 11 persons. Now, working shorter hours, he can grow food for 18 people.

"Religion Boom" Leaders Needed, Council Head Says

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP)—Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, president of the National Council of Churches, said today a "boom in religion" is not desirable unless there are enough well-qualified ministers to guide it.

He warned that such a boom, without an adequate supply of well-qualified ministers, "could lead to fanaticism or fail to be relevant to the deepest needs of men."

Dr. Blake, who is also stated clerk of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., made the statements as moderator of an NBC television panel discussing the question: "How Important Is the Christian Ministry?"

Others on the panel were Nathan M. Pusey, president of Harvard University; John D. Rockefeller III; Dr. Liston Pope, dean of the Yale Divinity School, and Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, pastor of Christ Church (Methodist), New York.

Dr. Sockman reported a marked advance in church attendance and commented that a "real religious boom would convert crowds of half-believers into intelligent churchmen."

He deplored a "trend toward too many specialists and too few general practitioners" in the ministry. Dr. Pope noted the same trend toward specialization. He said there are 2,000 ministers on the staffs of church councils, as well as many engaged in industrial relations, in rural problems, in radio and television. "Subdivision is taking place at a rapid rate," he commented.

Winchell "Cleared" By Official Of SEC

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP)—An official of the Securities and Exchange Commission said today Walter Winchell was not "guilty of violating any SEC regulations or law in giving out his so-called 'tips' on securities."

The official, Frank Purcell, New York regional director, said there was nothing incorrect in the information broadcast by Winchell, such as the recent mention of Panepco Oil stock.

Purcell said the information was "factual and in fact information that had appeared some time previously in the financial pages of the newspapers, but that in the excitable way Mr. Winchell mentions the information the general public believes it to be new information."

The largest opening order in history, 355,000 shares, followed Winchell's remarks. The oil stock jumped in price, but later dropped.

L. And N. Railroad Strike Set Today

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 13 (AP)—Some 2,000 union employees of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad held a mass "confidence" meeting today as the deadline neared for a strike on the 13-date line.

The walkout at 6 a. m. tomorrow would idle 25,000 nonoperating employees. It was called after the railroad refused to go along with the demands of 10 AFL crafts for a health and welfare plan similar to the one endorsed by most other railroads last August.

Teachers Group Rejects Plan For Protest

Votes To Expand Legislative Unit

The Allegany County Teachers Association has voted to expand its legislative committee to include six members, but has turned thumbs down on a proposal for a public protest over failure to obtain the full $500 requested increase above the state minimum standards.

These actions were taken Saturday morning at a special meeting at West Side School where the association members assembled to hear reports from the legislative and public relations committees on their meeting Friday in Annapolis with the County Delegation.

After the Friday meeting Charles M. See, delegation chairman, announced that the group would introduce a bill calling for the mandatory increase of teachers' salaries $300 above the state minimum standards in September, plus additional $100 increases in September 1956 and September 1957.

Reluctant To Talk

Officials of the association were reluctant to discuss the protest motion other than to say that it was defeated by a decisive margin. One reliable source indicated that the vote against the motion was about three-to-one.

It also was understood reliably that the protest plan would have called for all teachers to remain away from their classrooms today to emphasize their resentment. After considerable discussion the proposal was defeated in a secret written ballot.

The constitutional amendment which was adopted, according to Miss Gertrude A. C. Williams, association president, would increase the legislative committee membership from three to six. Initially the terms would be staggered for one, two and three years. Then, each year, two committee members would be elected. In that manner four of the six committee members would have at least one year's experience.

Seeks Assistance

In another action, the association moved to empower its Executive Board to go before Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster to intercede in behalf of 23 teachers who will get only $200 more next year than they now receive under the $300 increase salary schedule.

The association wants these 23 teachers to get at least $300 more than they now receive. Other teachers are due to get $600, $500, $400 or $300 more than their present pay. Those whose pay would advance only $200 under the schedule include 10 in their eighth year, now making $3,700, and 13 in their ninth year, now earning $3,800. They would move up to $3,900 and $4,000, respectively, under the plan because they are already ahead of the state minimum standards.

Miss Williams also disclosed that no additional action was needed Saturday morning on the reports from the legislative and public relations committee members. She said the joint committee was empowered to act for the association and the committee did accept the compromise bill which the County Delegation will introduce.

State Senator Robert B. Kimble announced over the weekend that he will support the pay increase (Continued on Page 11, Col. 8)

Today's Sermonette

Today's sermonette is a digest of the sermon preached yesterday at the Salvation Army Citadel by the commanding officer, Captain Daniel K. Biggs. The sermon digests are being prepared through the cooperation of the Cumberland Ministerial Association.

Getting Things By Prayer

By CAPT. DANIEL K. BIGGS

"More things are wrought by prayer than this world ever dreams of." Prayer is the power that moves the Hand of God. Prayer is the key that opens heaven's door and brings God's blessings upon his children. Prayer is real. Prayer is vital. Prayer is the life breath of our Christian profession. It begins with prayer. It grows and flourishes through prayer and the lack of prayer causes decay and spiritual death. Therefore, whatever throws light on the subject, practice, and objectives of prayer make for the health of our soul.

In our Scripture portion two parables of our Lord are in focus. These two great parables teach us two profound lessons toward the art of prayer. To this end: that men ought always to pray and not to faint (value of importunity in prayer). Certain which trusted in themselves and despised others (spirit which should pervade in prayer).

1. The Importance of Perseverance in Prayer — The friendless widow did not give up because she was refused the first, second, or even the third time. She kept knocking. She kept asking and she finally received the desire of her heart. "Shall not God avenge his own elect, which cry day and night unto Him, though He bear long with them?" It is much easier to begin the habit of prayer than to keep it up. Fear, necessity, bereavement, emotion, misfortune, may lead to prayer after a fashion, but it requires real faith and a resolute determination to keep praying when the answer is delayed; or when it seems that our prayers get no higher than the ceiling of our room. Remember that none of us are immune from the assaults of restiveness and impatience. In the crisis of trial, the furnace of affliction we are all prone to be like the careless disciples of the Sea of Galilee, "Carest thou not that we perish?"

There is also the secret inclination to hurry our praying. We live in a rush-a-day world. Everyone is so busy, so many demands being made upon us all. Let us therefore take time to pray on, to pray always, without ceasing, without fainting. Let us continue instant in prayer and supplication.

Then too, we must be reasonable in our petitions to a reasonable Heavenly Father. Not all prayers will be answered now, or in the near future or perhaps at long last. Some things are produced only by long and painful processes. Give me a heart like thine we pray, perhaps little realizing the real thing we are asking for. This would require having our hearts broken. This would necessitate a heart of love and compassion. When God begins to answer that prayer by sending something into our lives that will develop a heart like His great heart of love, then we begin to complain and say, "What have I done to deserve such treatment, such punishment. Let us then be reasonable in what we ask God for.

2. The Pharisee and the Publican — The Pharisee was self-righteous, felt himself better than others. In this parable we see the fatal danger of spiritual pride. We are all naturally self-righteous, unclean, unworthy, but through Christ we get rid of our pride and self-righteousness and receive in its place God's righteousness.

The great defect of the Pharisee's prayer was the absence of all sense of sin and need. No confession. No petition. No acknowledgment of emptiness. No supplication for mercy and grace. All full of self. Such a prayer is unchristian and is a stink in the nostrils of Almighty God.

The Publican, however, made a real petition. He started out his prayer by acknowledging his need. "God be merciful to me a sinner." By getting our eyes off others and making our prayers more personal we may gain a seat in the school of prayer.

The final words of our Saviour in this particular parable are in praise of humility which should be the foremost of the Christian graces. It is the absolute "hall mark" of the sterling Christian. Without it the professed Christian is either all together or below the standard. "He that humbly himself shall be exalted. Are you getting things from God? If not, examine your Christian experience and your prayer life in the light of these two parables. "If ye abide in Me and My words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will and it shall be done unto you." Ask largely that your joys may be full.

West Virginia State Budget Set For Action

Extended Meeting Scheduled Today

By HERB LITTLE

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 13 (AP)—The 52d regular session of the West Virginia Legislature has ended, except for an extended meeting limited solely to action on the state budget for the next fiscal year.

Both houses meet at 10 a. m. tomorrow to begin the extended session. It is quite possible that the work will be completed in one day and that the tired lawmakers will be en route home by evening.

Senate and House conferees, in a meeting today, continued their task of working out a compromise between the two chambers' conflicting versions of the budget. The Board of Public Works, whose revenue estimates provide a frame into which the appropriations total must fit, was to meet tonight.

The conferees reached agreement tonight on a budget including general revenue expenditures of about 91 million dollars.

Hectic Windup

In a hectic and confused windup, both chambers worked past midnight last night, the constitutional deadline for adjournment of the 60-day session. But both Senate and House resorted to the hoary sham of stopping the official clock short of 12 o'clock.

These were the principal actions taken in the mad rush of the final hour:

1. The Senate refused to confirm six major appointments by Gov. William C. Marland, an action which immediately vacates the offices. Within the memory of veteran statehouse observers, it was the worst beating taken by a governor on appointments submitted to the Senate for confirmation.

2. Within a five-minute span shortly before midnight, both chambers passed a compromise version of a bill to reorganize the State Road Commission.

3. Then both houses gave their approval to a one-cent gasoline tax increase under circumstances which saw the basis for a possible court test of the act put into the record.

Appointments Rejected

The appointments rejected by the Senate in a closed session were: Luther H. Carson of Charleston, chairman of the Liquor Control Commission; Frank B. King of Morgantown, chief of the Mines Department; Dana C. Eakle of Clay, chairman of the Board of Probation and Parole.

J. R. Aliff of Fayetteville, head of the Department of Purchases; James M. Donohoe of Huntington, member of the Turnpike Commission (Continued on Page 11, Col. 6)

Chairmen Named For Convention Of Md. Firemen

Event Will Start Here On June 22

Chairmen to handle various phases of arrangements for the 63d annual State Firemen's Convention here June 22, 23 and 24 were named yesterday at a meeting of the convention steering committee at I Vale Fire Hall.

Meeting yesterday were the eight members of the steering committee and at least one representative from every volunteer fire company in the Allegany-Garrett Counties Volunteer Firemen's Association. David E. Kirk, association president, said total attendance was 39. Committee chairmen named included:

Picnic, Russell Kiddy, Barton, and Mrs. Henry Knierem, LaVale; parade, John Frichard, Grantsville, and William A. Wilson, Midland; tickets, Felix Foote, Lonaconing, and Mrs. Helen Frichard, Grantsville; judges, Kirk; program, Nelson W. Russler, Chapel Hill; Cromwell Zembower, LaVale; W. Earle Lawyer, Bedford Road; badges, show and entertainment, steering committee, concessions, Homer Ambrose, McCool; housing, Kirk; decorations, Harry DeHaven, Baltimore Pike, and George Comp, Deer Park.

The big convention parade winding up the three-day convention has been set for 7 p. m. Friday, June 24. Kirk said $1,275 in prize money is being offered to state and out-of-state fire companies, auxiliaries and bands.

Housing reservations already have been received for 175 persons. Kirk expects that between 1,500 and 2,000 delegates will be here in June for the convention.

Steps are being made to tie in the promotion of the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial celebration with the convention. Badges for committee chairmen and delegates all will carry a picture of old Fort Cumberland. The convention program also will devote some publicity to the historic occasion.

Plans also are being formulated for a drill contest which will be held at 4 p. m. Friday, June 24, if a minimum of five companies enter. Some $150 in prizes will be offered.

The officers' dinner, marking the start of the convention, will be held Tuesday evening, June 21.

Next meeting of the convention committee on which Russler and Zembower are co-chairmen will be held Wednesday, April 13, at 7:30 p. m. at the LaVale Fire Hall.

License Tag Sale Still Ahead Of '54

Sale of 1955-56 Maryland automobile license tags in the office of Tax Collector Ernest B. Treat at the Court House is running 735 ahead of the corresponding date last year.

With sale of 431 more sets Friday the total this year surged to 6,113. A year ago on March 11, 5,378 tags had been sold at the Court House.

Three Blazes Give Firemen A Full Day

Volunteer firemen at LaVale had a busy afternoon yesterday within 15 minutes as they checked on a tractor-trailer's overheated brakes and two grass fires.

About 12:15 p. m. yesterday the driver of a tractor-trailer which was traveling along Route 40 pulled within about half a block of the fire station. When the volunteers went to the scene they found the brakes had overheated.

Just about the same time the siren sounded, and as the firemen were returning to the station they learned that grass had caught fire in the vicinity of the new school being built in LaVale.

A third alarm, which turned out to be a grass fire in the rear of the Maryland State Police barracks, also was checked by another group of LaVale firemen using a second truck.

When the second truck returned to the station its crew learned of the fire near the new school and reported there to aid the other volunteers.

The volunteers used five-gallon Indian tanks and rakes to put out the grass fires. In charge of combatting the fires was Donald Chenoweth, assistant fire chief.

State Park Board Change Is Proposed

Senate Bill 413, which would guarantee that one member of the State Commission of Forests and Parks would be a practical farmer from Garrett County, has been introduced by Senator Clifford Friend of Garrett County.

Under present law, two members of the commission are appointed for their general interest in the advancement of State Parks and recreation. Senator Friend's proposal would strike out that provision and substitute that the two members shall be practical farmers, and preferably graduates of an agricultural college or university, or hold degrees in agricultural science or related fields. One of the practical farmers would be resident of Garrett County, the substitute clauses.

SB 413 would make no changes in the provisions concerning the other three commission members. They will still include one recommended by the State Grange, one recommended by the State Farm Bureau and one with practical experience in the business of lumbering.

Senator Friend's proposal would not affect the tenure of commission members in office on June 1, 1955, but would affect appointments made after that date, the effective date of the legislation.

Release Of U.Md. Report 'Unwise,' Committee Finds

Legislative Group Studies Controversy

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS, March 13 (AP)—A joint legislative subcommittee plans to report this week that public release of the University of Maryland evaluation report was unwise.

The subcommittee, it was reported, came to the conclusion after weeks of studying the report and its background.

The report was practically forced from the university after pressure that started last year in the election campaign between Dr. H. C. Byrd and Gov. McKeldin.

Sen. Kimble (R-Allegany) on the opening day of the 1955 General Assembly, Jan. 5, introduced a resolution asking for the report. Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, the new university president, voluntarily sent it to presiding officers of the Legislature on Jan. 17.

Report Due This Week

The job of what to do or say about it was given to subcommittees of two education committees.

They are ready to make their report this week and one of the main conclusions is that the 166-page evaluation book should have remained confidential as planned.

They reasoned that because of its form it is subject to misinterpretation and is only the third step in the accrediting system of the Middle States Atlantic Assn.

The university at first makes sort of a self-evaluation by filling out a long questionnaire prepared by the association. Survey teams from the association then spend a week on the campus personally studying the various departments.

Their report, the one which was released, goes into great detail and theory, to be used as a guide by the university in making improvements. A 15-member committee of the association draws conclusions from the report and the final decision on accrediting and recommendations is made by the association board.

This is in the form of a letter notifying the university of its accrediting deserves continuation and a list of major weakness. The University of Maryland letter cited five major areas of weakness and will ask what has been done about them by 1956.

Public Interest Involved

The legislative subcommittees concluded it would serve the public purpose to release the final letter. The University of Maryland regents did give out a summary of the letter they got. But they had refused to release the detailed evaluation report until the Legislature showed signs of demanding it.

Senate President Goldstein (D-Calvert) later agreed with presidents of other universities receiving State aid that copies of their accrediting letters only would be sufficient information for the General Assembly.

The subcommittee study included written queries to other universities and a personal discussion with Ewald B. Nyquist, chairman of the examining association.

Sen. Nock (D-Wicomico) and Del. Tydings (D-Harford) were chairmen of the respective subcommittees. They drafted their report over the weekend.

New Phone Co. Gets REA Loan

A Rural Electrification Administration loan to extend and improve telephone service in West Virginia has been announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Hardy Telephone Company in Moorefield has been loaned $353,000 to provide rural telephone service in Hardy, Hampshire, Grant and Pendleton counties.

With these loans the borrower, a new cooperative with no present facilities, plans a modern dial telephone system in the South Branch Valley to serve rural areas which never have had telephone service.

An entirely new plant will be constructed consisting of 248 miles of line and a new dial central office at Lost River. These modern facilities will enable the cooperative to furnish telephone service for the first time to 663 rural residents. Vance Mathias is president of the company.

Teachers Group Rejects Plan For Protest

Votes To Expand Legislative Unit

The Allegany County Teachers Association has voted to expand its legislative committee to include six members, but has turned thumbs down on a proposal for a public protest over failure to obtain the full $500 requested increase above the state minimum standards.

These actions were taken Saturday morning at a special meeting at West Side School where the association members assembled to hear reports from the legislative and public relations committees on their meeting Friday in Annapolis with the County Delegation.

After the Friday meeting Charles M. See, delegation chairman, announced that the group would introduce a bill calling for the mandatory increase of teachers' salaries $300 above the state minimum standards in September, plus additional $100 increases in September 1956 and September 1957.

Reluctant To Talk

Officials of the association were reluctant to discuss the protest motion other than to say that it was defeated by a decisive margin. One reliable source indicated that the vote against the motion was about three-to-one.

It also was understood reliably that the protest plan would have called for all teachers to remain away from their classrooms today to emphasize their resentment. After considerable discussion the proposal was defeated in a secret written ballot.

The constitutional amendment which was adopted, according to Miss Gertrude A. C. Williams, association president, would increase the legislative committee membership from three to six. Initially the terms would be staggered for one, two and three years. Then, each year, two committee members would be elected. In that manner four of the six committee members would have at least one year's experience.

Seeks Assistance

In another action, the association moved to empower its Executive Board to go before Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster to intercede in behalf of 23 teachers who will get only $200 more next year than they now receive under the $300 increase salary schedule.

The association wants these 23 teachers to get at least $300 more than they now receive. Other teachers are due to get $600, $500, $400 or $300 more than their present pay. Those whose pay would advance only $200 under the schedule include 10 in their eighth year, now making $3,700, and 13 in their ninth year, now earning $3,800. They would move up to $3,900 and $4,000, respectively, under the plan because they are already ahead of the state minimum standards.

Miss Williams also disclosed that no additional action was needed Saturday morning on the reports from the legislative and public relations committee members. She said the joint committee was empowered to act for the association and the committee did accept the compromise bill which the County Delegation will introduce.

State Senator Robert B. Kimble announced over the weekend that he will support the pay increase (Continued on Page 11, Col. 8)

Getting Things By Prayer

By CAPT. DANIEL K. BIGGS

"More things are wrought by prayer than this world ever dreams of." Prayer is the power that moves the Hand of God. Prayer is the key that opens heaven's door and brings God's blessings upon his children. Prayer is the life breath of our Christian profession. It begins with prayer. It grows and flourishes through prayer and the lack of prayer causes decay and spiritual death. Therefore, whatever throws light on the subject, practice, and objectives of prayer make for the health of our soul.

In our Scripture portion two parables of our Lord are in focus. These two great parables teach us two profound lessons toward the art of prayer. To this end: that men ought always to pray and not to faint (value of importunity in prayer). Certain which trusted in themselves and despised others (spirit which should pervade in prayer).

1. The Importance of Perseverance in Prayer — The friendless widow did not give up because she was refused the first, second, or even the third time. She kept knocking. She kept asking and she finally received the desire of her heart. "Shall not God avenge his own elect, which cry day and night unto Him, though He bear long with them." It is much easier to begin the habit of prayer than to keep it up. Fear, necessity, bereavement, emotion, misfortune, may lead to prayer after a fashion, but it requires real faith and a resolute determination to keep praying when the answer is delayed; or when it seems that our prayers get no higher than the ceiling of our room. Remember that none of us are immune from the assaults of restiveness and impatience. In the crisis of trial, the furnace of affliction we are all prone to be like the careless disciples of the Sea of Galilee, "Carest thou not that we perish." There is also the secret inclination to hurry our praying. We live in a rush-a-day world. Everyone is so busy, so many demands being made upon us all. Let us therefore take time to pray on, to pray always, without ceasing, without fainting. Let us continue instant in prayer and supplication. Then too, we must be reasonable in our petitions to a reasonable Heavenly Father. Not all prayers will be answered now, or in the near future or perhaps at long last. Some things are produced only by long and painful processes. Give God a heart like thine we pray, perhaps little realizing the real thing we are asking for. This would require having our hearts broken. This would necessitate a heart of love and compassion. When God begins to answer that prayer by sending something into our lives that will develop a heart like His great heart of love, then we begin to complain and say, "What have I done to deserve such treatment, such punishment. Let us, then be reasonable in what we ask God for.

2. The Pharisee and the Publican — The Pharisee was self-righteous, felt himself better than others. In this parable we see the fatal danger of spiritual pride. We are all naturally self-righteous, unclean, unworthy, but through Christ we get rid of our pride and self-righteousness and receive in its place God's righteousness.

The great defect of the Pharisee's prayer was the absence of all sense of sin and need. No confession. No petition. No acknowledgment of emptiness. No supplication for mercy and grace. All full of self. Such a prayer is unchristian and is a stink in the nostrils of Almighty God.

The Publican, however, made a real petition. He started out his prayer by acknowledging his need. "God be merciful to me a sinner." By getting our eyes off others and making our prayers more personal we may gain a seat in the school of prayer.

The final words of our Saviour in this particular parable are in praise of humility which should be the foremost of the Christian graces. It is the absolute "hall mark" of the sterling Christian. Without it the professed Christian is either all together or below the standard. "He that humbly himself shall be exalted. If not, getting things from God? If not, examine your Christian experience and your prayer life in the light of these two parables. "If ye abide in Me and My words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will and it shall be done unto you." Ask largely that your joys may be full.

West Virginia State Budget Set For Action

Extended Meeting Scheduled Today

By HERB LITTLE

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 13 (AP)—The 52d regular session of the West Virginia Legislature has ended, except for an extended meeting limited solely to action on the state budget for the next fiscal year.

Both houses meet at 10 a. m. tomorrow to begin the extended session. It is quite possible that the work will be completed in one day and that the tired lawmakers will be en route home by evening.

Senate and House conferees, in a meeting today, continued their task of working out a compromise between the two chambers' conflicting versions of the budget. The Board of Public Works, whose revenue estimates provide a frame into which the appropriations must fit, was to meet tonight.

The conferees reached agreement tonight on a budget including general revenue expenditures of about 91 million dollars.

Hectic Windup

In a hectic and confused windup, both chambers worked past midnight last night, the constitutional deadline for adjournment of the 60-day session. But both Senate and House resorted to the hoary sham of stopping the official clock short of 12 o'clock.

These were the principal actions taken in the mad rush of the final hour:

1. The Senate refused to confirm six major appointments by Gov. William C. Marland, an action which immediately vacates the offices. Within the memory of veteran statehouse observers, it was the worst beating taken by a governor on appointments submitted to the Senate for confirmation.

2. Within a five-minute span shortly before midnight, both chambers passed a compromise version of a bill to reorganize the State Road Commission.

3. Then both houses gave their approval to a one-cent gasoline tax increase under circumstances which saw the basis for a possible court test of the act put into the record.

Appointments Rejected

The appointments rejected by the Senate in a closed session were: Luther H. Carson of Charleston, chairman of the Liquor Control Commission; Frank B. King of Morgantown, chief of the Mines Department; Dana C. Eakle of Clay, chairman of the Board of Probation and Parole.

J. R. Aliff of Fayetteville, head of the Department of Purchases; James M. Donohoe of Huntington, member of the Turnpike Commission. (Continued on Page 11, Col. 6)

James S. Getty, assistant state's attorney, who gave the oration, said that "the anniversary of the close of a life is no less appropriate a time in which to pass in review the accomplishments of this organization and of the men who comprise it. Today we are doing

Over 400 persons who attended the annual program were reminded by the speaker that the objective of Eagledom has remained the same, "to make human life more desirable by lessening its ills and promoting peace, prosperity, gladness and hope."

College Examinations Given At Allegany

Princeton's College Entrance Board examinations were held Saturday in room 220 at Allegany High School. Twenty-five area students took advantage of the service and national testing program, taking the morning scholastic aptitude tests from 9 a. m. until noon. In the afternoon 16 students took the subject examinations, each one hour in length.

Results of the tests are sent to Princeton, N. J. and from there to the individual colleges and universities. Many schools require the college entrance examinations as a major basis for acceptance. The examinations were administered by Foy A. Curry, vice principal at Allegany.

Three Blazes Give Firemen A Full Day

Volunteer firemen at LaVale had a busy afternoon yesterday within 15 minutes as they checked on a tractor-trailer's overheated brakes and two grass fires.

About 12:15 p. m. yesterday the driver of a tractor-trailer which was traveling along Route 40 pulled within about half a block of the fire station. When the volunteers went to the scene they found the brakes had overheated.

Just about the same time the siren sounded, and as the firemen were returning to the station they learned that grass had caught fire in the vicinity of the new school being built in LaVale.

A third alarm, which turned out to be a grass fire in the rear of the Maryland State Police barracks, also was checked by another group of LaVale firemen using a second truck.

When the second truck returned to the station its crew learned of the fire near the new school and reported there to aid the other volunteers.

The volunteers used five-gallon Indian tanks and rakes to put out the grass fires. In charge of combatting the fires was Donald Chenoweth, assistant fire chief.

State Park Board Change Is Proposed

Senate Bill 413, which would guarantee that one member of the State Commission of Forests and Parks would be a practical farmer from Garrett County, has been introduced by Senator Clifford Friend of Garrett County.

Under present law, two members of the commission are appointed for their general interest in the advancement of State Parks and recreation. Senator Friend's proposal would strike out that provision and substitute that the two members shall be practical farmers, and preferably graduates of an agricultural college or university, or hold degrees in agricultural science or related fields. One of the practical farmers would be resident of Garrett County, the substitute clauses.

SB 413 would make no changes in the provisions concerning the other three commission members. They will still include one recommended by the State Grange, one recommended by the State Farm Bureau and one with practical experience in the business of lumbering.

Senator Friend's proposal would not affect the tenure of commission members in office on June 1, 1955, but would affect appointments made after that date, the effective date of the legislation.

Release Of U.Md. Report 'Unwise,' Committee Finds

Legislative Group Studies Controversy

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS, March 13 (AP)—A joint legislative subcommittee plans to report this week that public release of the University of Maryland evaluation report was unwise.

The subcommittee, it was reported, came to the conclusion after weeks of studying the report and its background.

The report was practically forced from the university after pressure that started last year in the election campaign between Dr. H. C. Byrd and Gov. McKeldin.

Sen. Kimble (R-Allegany) on the opening day of the 1955 General Assembly, Jan. 5, introduced a resolution asking for the report. Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, the new university president, voluntarily sent it to presiding officers of the Legislature on Jan. 17.

Report Due This Week

The job of what to do or say about it was given to subcommittees of two education committees.

They are ready to make their report this week and one of the main conclusions is that the 166-page evaluation book should have remained confidential as planned.

They reasoned that because of its form it is subject to misinterpretation and is only the third step in the accrediting system of the Middle States Atlantic Assn.

The university at first makes sort of a self-evaluation by filling out a long questionnaire prepared by the association. Survey teams from the association then spend a week on the campus personally studying the various departments.

Their report, the one which was released, goes into great detail and theory, to be used as a guide by the university in making improvements. A 15-member committee of the association draws conclusions from the report and the final decision on accrediting and recommendations is made by the association board.

This is in the form of a letter notifying the university of its accrediting deserves continuation and a list of major weakness. The University of Maryland letter cited five major areas of weakness and will ask what has been done about them by 1956.

Public Interest Involved

The legislative subcommittees concluded it would serve the public purpose to release the final letter. The University of Maryland regents did give out a summary of the letter they got. But they had refused to release the detailed evaluation report until the Legislature showed signs of demanding it.

Senate President Goldstein (D-Calvert) later agreed with presidents of other universities receiving State aid that copies of their accrediting letters only would be sufficient information for the General Assembly.

The subcommittee study included written queries to other universities and a personal discussion with Ewald B. Nyquist, chairman of the examining association.

Sen. Nock (D-Wicomico) and Del. Tynes (D-Harford) were chairmen of the respective subcommittees. They drafted their report over the weekend.

New Phone Co. Gets REA Loan

A Rural Electrification Administration loan to extend and improve telephone service in West Virginia has been announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Hardy Telephone Company in Moorefield has been loaned $353,000 to provide rural telephone service in Hardy, Hampshire, Grant and Pendleton counties.

With these loans the borrower, a new cooperative with no present facilities, plans a modern dial telephone system in the South Branch Valley to serve rural areas which never have had telephone service.

An entirely new plant will be constructed consisting of 248 miles of line and a new dial central office at Lost River. These modern facilities will enable the cooperative to furnish telephone service for the first time to 663 rural residents. Vance Mathias is president of the company.
